Senate Wrecks Wilson's League Plan

OVENANT CLAUSE HELD TO BE VITAL IS NOT ACCEPTED

Obligations That Insure Integrity Of Other Nations Refused

VOTE IS 46 TO 33

ejection Of Treaty Is Implied, In Opinion Of President

NEW FIGHT OPENS

Reservation To Enable U.S. To Withdraw To Be Introduced

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, November 14.—he Senate last night by 46 votes o 33 adopted a reservation to the eace Treaty declining to assume bligations regarding the territorial integrity or political indeendence of any other country.

The reservation is couched in anguage which President Wilson reviously declared would cut the eart out of the league Covenant nd mean rejection of the treaty. he Government fought all day ng to secure a modification of is reservation and closure of he debate, but failed.

Afterwards Senator Hitchcock ave notice that he would move reservation covering withrawal from the League of ations.

Congressmen Planning For Final Vote On Pact

Pressure for the final action f voting upon the treaty is increasing as Congressmen insist pon having a brief rest before he regular December session.

Some Senators predict a vote efore Saturday, while others redict another adjournment bout November twenty-second.

It is understood that it will equire two thirds majority ither to adopt or reject the reaty.

The Senate rejected the Foreign Relations Committee's proposals to require four instead of hree great powers to accept the reservations, this amendment would make it possible for oreign powers to accept the reservations merely "by recognising the United States as a party o the treaty.

The reservation giving Congress authority to regulate the appointment of the American delegate to League International Commission was adopted.

Amendment Proposed By Johnson Is Defeated

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Washington, Nov. 13.—(American Wireless from San Francisco).—The Senate voted against the amendment proposed by Mr. Johnson providing for the striking out of the Labor provisions of the Peace Treaty.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The Senate has adopted a resolution limiting the debate on the peace treaty.

Peking, Nov. 14.—(Wireless from Lyons).—M. Pichon returned to Paris yesterday from London, where he had a conference with Messrs. Lloyd George, Churchill and Balfour and discussed the non-ratification of the Treaty by the American Senate.

The sentiment in the French Foreign Office circles is that ratification by the American Senate will probably be delayed by discussion but will without doubt be effected and there is an inclination to regard the Republican reservations as a Parliamentary manifestation of an interior political character.

It is pointed out that they can only be interpreted merely as giving direction to the American Government in the application of the treaty. Thus the Allies need not be preoccupied with them. Once the text is signed the United States will be bound and the votes of the Senate commenting on such ratification will not affect the Allies. Should the American Government, however, decide to register the reservations thus made by the Senate it is understood in London that the Allies will not acquiesce in a procedure already refused to the smaller nations, namely, Rumania and Belgium.

Siberian Army Reported In Retreat

Situation In East Russia Grows More Serious When Reds Build Up Units With New Men

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, November 18.—It is reported that the Bolshevists have captured Omsk and are pressing on eastwards.

London, Nov. 15.—An official Moscow wireless message states that the Bolsheviki have occupied Omsk, and that "the enemy is retreating in an easterly direction."

Evacuation Of Kief Ordered By Denikin

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 15.—General Denikin has ordered the evacuation of Kief.

In addition to the military situation affairs in Siberia are further complicated by renewed demands from the Czechs to return home without delay. Most of the Consuls have gone to Irkutsk from Omsk with the Government. The American Consul is leaving today. It is understood that fresh Japanese troops are being sent to Siberia.

London, Nov. 15.—A Bolshevik wireless message claims the capture of Yamburg, sixty-eight miles Southwest of Petrograd.

The Daily Chronicle publishes an inspired statement emphasising that there is no question of Great Britain taking isolated action in Eastern Europe. The journal says that the Allies will continue to act in the closest cooperation.

SITUATION SERIOUS

London, November 13.—It is authoritatively stated that the situation in East Russia is undoubtedly serious. The Siberian army is apparently still retreating along a 220 mile front, owing to the Reds rapidly filling up their units with fresh volunteer corps and their restoration of stringent discipline. The Red advance guards have reached Isilkul 80 miles west of Omsk, and they also claim to have reached Mangut 125 miles northwest of Omsk. The approach of winter, it is added, may stay the Bolshevist advance west of Omsk, owing to transport and supply difficulties.

Peking Cabinet Tries To Save Face Of Anfus

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, November 16.—The Peking cabinet question has settled down to the problem of how the face of the Anfu Club can best be saved. There is no hope here that the nominations for the new Chin Yun-peng Ministry will go before Parliament earlier than the middle of next week. The club was beaten when Tsao Kun and Li Shun upheld General Chin in his choice of men to head the ministries under him and Chin, stiffened by this moral backing, made the decision to withhold all further Government subsidies from the Anfu Club.

The negotiations now going on between the Premier and the Anfu leaders are typically oriental. The Anfu men are making daily concessions that bring them nearer to the Government's viewpoint with regard to the Cabinet. All but the extreme reactionary members of the party have openly agreed to accept General Chin's slate as it stands.

The reactionaries are, however, still appearing to hold out, their latest compromise offer being that General Wu Ping-hsiang, the chief of the Metropolitan Police, be appointed Minister of the Interior. In return for this concession on the part of General Chin they say they will agree to Chou Tze-chi's appointment as Minister of Finance. Wu Ping-hsiang has, however, frequently refused what he regards as an Irish promotion to the much less influential post as Minister of the Interior. It is regarded here as probable that the Chin Cabinet nominations will be ready to go to Parliament as they stand after one or two interludes similar to the demand for the appointment of General Wu Ping-hsiang have occurred.

BRITISH GRAIN CROP BELOW THAT OF 1918

Wheat Production, However, Is Somewhat Above Average For Past Decade

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 13.—A preliminary return for 1919 issued by the Board of Agriculture shows that the wheat crop this year decreased by 2,500,000 quarters as compared with last year, though it was 500,000 quarters above the average of the last ten years. Barley was 600,000 quarters below the 1918 figure and 300,000 below the average. Oats were 3,000,000 quarters below 1918, but otherwise hit the highest figure since 1907. The hay crop was 5,000,000 tons, the lightest since 1893.

China To Reduce Strength Of Army In Economy Plan

With Military Strength Cut, Nation Will Be Biggest Power In World

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, November 15.—The Central government has given informal assurances to the representatives of various foreign powers that it intends to demobilise 20 percent of the country's entire standing army as soon as the necessary arrangements for this plan can be made effective, and that most of the influential Northern Tuchuns, including Chang Tso-lin, Tsao Kun and Li Shun, are supporting the scheme. Demobilisation agents representing the ten provinces and military districts of Fengtien, Kirin, Chihli, Shantung, Anhui, Kiangsu, Shensi, Szechuen, Jehol and Suiyuan have already arrived in Peking and held several preliminary meetings. Further military agents are expected here soon from Heilungkiang, Shansi, Honan, Hunan and Chahar.

The demobilisation commission will sit under the auspices of the Joint Board of War and the General Staff and will be presided over by either Tuan Chi-jui or Chin Yun-peng, both of whom are giving their strong support to the plan. Arrangements have been worked out to cut the standing army down to a strength of 50 divisions (500,000) men and 120 mixed brigades (480,000 men), or 980,000 men in all. This cut is slightly over 20 percent, as the army's strength today is estimated at from 1,250,000 to 1,300,000 troops. For the upkeep of the reduced force an annual estimate of $190,000,000 has been made, and the special monthly allowances for divisions are not to exceed $150,000 for each division. Mixed brigades are not to receive more than $70,000 a month.

Even when the contemplated reduction has been made China will be, on paper, the greatest military power in the world, there being at present no standing army half as large as her estimated force of 980,000 men.

In 1914 Germany, then the greatest military power in the world, had a standing army of not exceeding 700,000; Japan has today some 400,000 troops under arms; the present strength of the French and British armies is about 350,000; and the standing army of the United States now numbers 252,000.

OVERHEAD ECONOMY

China's military experts have, however, stated that the first reduction of their army is but a preliminary step in reducing the country's forces to reasonable proportions and that it is necessary to demobilise the superfluous troops in several instalments rather than by making one big cut. The military governors, they say, have got to get used to the idea of having smaller forces at their disposal, and the present unsettled condition of the country, which furnishes an excuse for the maintenance of large forces, has got to be remedied.

Both Chinese and foreign military experts here agreed that a standing army of 50 peace-strength divisions, or 500,000 men is adequate for the requirements of the country under any except war conditions. The frontiers bordering on Tibet and Russian Turkestan will have to be guarded by very considerable forces, but the other frontiers, including those in the Northeast require nothing more than strong police forces. With 200,000 troops stationed along her borders and the balance of 300,000 men quartered at various points in the interior provinces for the suppression of bandits and the maintenance of order, China, free from the fear of invasion by a foreign power, would have an army sufficient for all her needs.

WEEDING OUT PROCESS

It is understood here that the authorities intend to get rid first of all the bad and poorly trained and disciplined elements of the army and arrangements will be made to prevent these men from being recruited again once they are disbanded. Military units that have rendered meritorious service or that have a known record for discipline and efficiency will be retained in the army, so that the reduction of the present armed forces will actually result in increased military efficiency. The Government intends to make demobilisation allowances to the provinces of $400,000, $250,000 and $150,000, depending upon the size of each province and the number of troops to be disbanded there. The source from which these funds are to be derived has not yet been stated.

PEI YANG STRIKE ENDS; AMERICAN PRESTIGE SOUGHT

Attempt Made To Undermine Discipline Of University Is Failure

PEKING WILL INVESTIGATE

U.S. Returned Student Is Expected To Be Named School Head

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, November 16.—The difficulties between the faculty of Pei Yang University and a group of university students, who objected first to one and later to all but one of members of the foreign teaching staff, are in a fair way to be settled to the satisfaction of the former. The students returned to their classes last week under a guarantee from the Peking Ministry of Education that the entire case would be investigated within seven days.

On Friday last Messrs. Chin and Kuo of the Ministry of Education went to Tientsin to prove the trouble, and, although their final report has not yet been turned in, it is understood that the results of their inquiries are favorable to the faculty. If this expectation holds good the probability is that the ringleaders of the Pei Yang strike will be dismissed from the university as an example to others who might at some later date entertain the desire to undermine the discipline of their university.

The Pei Yang situation has been marked by the desire of the Peking Government to stand by the American faculty and ensure its members of governmental support. This means that the work done at Pei Yang has been appreciated at Peking and that a real effort is being made by the officials to uphold the prestige of the school. The sincerity of the support from Peking is further evinced by the semi-official statement that an American returned student will be appointed to the presidency of Pei Yang University in place of Mr. Chao Tien-lin, who recently resigned to take up a position in the Kailan Mining Administration. This means that the American faculty will be able to continue its work in a sympathetic atmosphere and under a president who knows and understands their methods, and that the idea for which Pei Yang has stood in the past will not be allowed to go to the wall.

American Bank Board Adopts Measure To Check Speculation

Action Follows Market Slump That Sends Call Loan Rate To Thirty Percent

(Reuter's Service)

New York, November 12.—At a conference of the Federal Reserve Board with leading bankers it was decided to withhold money from the market in order to check gambling in stocks, which is regarded as responsible for the present unrest. Fixing the interest rate on loans at 25 percent has already checked stock dealings.

There were violent slumps in coffee, cotton, grain and provisions stocks today and the climax was reached in the final hour when the interest rate on call money reached thirty percent, the highest figure for a dozen years. The volume of sales established a record for the year. Cotton dropped 200 points and coffee 100 points on weakness of the foreign exchange.

Students Seized In Recent Riot; Japanese Direct

The telegram received from the Foochow Board of Directors by Mr. E. H. Munson, who is here for the Y.M.C.A. Secretaries' Conference, about the demonstration is as follows:

"On Sunday, Japanese and Formosans attacked our students with pistols and swords without any provocation. Four students were shot and seriously injured, while several others were abducted. The Japanese entered our compound with the weapons and tried to provoke the students. Three Japanese were caught by Chinese soldiers and police. The matter is now under diplomatic consideration."

GIFTS TO WILSON IN EUROPE LISTED FOR U.S. PUBLIC

Secretary Tumulty Describes Presents To President While Abroad

Washington, October 18.—Acting upon "express direction of the President and Mrs. Wilson," Secretary Tumulty has made public a statement containing an itemised list of presents received by them while in Europe.

His statement follows:

"While on his western trip the President's attention was called to the resolution of Representative Rodenberg of Illinois and the statements of Senators Penrose and Herman, in regard to gifts received by the President and Mrs. Wilson while they were in Europe.

"Senator Sherman indicated the basis of the various stories touching this matter when he said that cloakroom gossip laid the values of these gifts at $500,000.

"Here are the facts:

"Outside of a considerable number of small gifts, such as books, walking sticks, an old silver dish found in the ruins of Louvain, war souvenirs made by soldiers out of war material, and numerous medals struck off in his honor, the following are the only important gifts received by the President in Europe:

IN ENGLAND

"Photograph of the King and Queen of England.

"A book relating to Windsor Castle.

"The freedom of the city of London, presented in a gold casket, by the Lord Mayor at Guildhall.

IN ITALY

"A water color picture on bronze easel, present from the Queen of Italy.

"A bronze figure presented at the Capitol in Rome (a gift from the people).

"A figure of 'Italia Victoria,' sent to the train at Genoa, either by a school or by the citizens of Genoa.

"A set of books from the citizens of Genoa.

"A mosaic, presented by the Pope.

IN FRANCE

"A bronze figure, presented by a body of students.

"The President also received numerous honorary degrees from nearly all of the countries of Europe and many resolutions of respect and gratitude.

"Knowing that there is a constitutional inhibition against the President receiving gifts from foreign rulers or states, the President, after consulting the Secretary of State was preparing a list of the presents he intended to ask the permission of Congress to retain, just before he started on his western trip.

"In addition to the gifts received by the President the following tokens were presented to Mrs. Wilson, while she was in Europe.

IN FRANCE

"A pin of Parisian emerald with tiny diamond chips, presented in Hotel de Ville by the city of Paris.

"Linen hand-embroidered lunch set (small cloths, dozen napkins) in a case, presented through Mme.

Police Inspector Attached To Nipponese Consulate Said To Have Led Attack; Chinese Students Are Waylaid

An international incident of serious gravity, involving the United States, China and Japan, has taken place in Foochow.

Japanese rowdies armed with pistols and swords Sunday night conducted an unwarranted attack on Chinese students and raided the Foochow Y.M.C.A., killing two, a student and a police constable, and injuring eleven. Two Americans were among the injured, according to a report received by the Chinese press.

All shops in Foochow are closed and warships of various nations are being assembled round Foochow waters for emergency, this having been agreed upon at a hurried meeting of the Foochow consular body. The entire Fukien Province is in uproar.

JAPANESE WANT TROUBLE

The incident, which was briefly reported in THE CHINA PRESS yesterday, is the result of a long planned aggressive scheme by the Japanese in Fukien, according to former foreign and Chinese residents. The Japanese there want trouble. They want an excuse to start a row with the Chinese. That the Japanese were the aggressors is beyond doubt, it is said.

Press reports allege that the Japanese police inspector attached to the Japanese Consulate-General was the ringleader of the attack. Seeing a number of students at the An Lu Bridge on their way to the bible school classes of the Y.M.C.A., the rowdies stabbed them without provocation. One student, a Mr. Ho, was instantly killed, while two others were captured by the Japanese.

The Japanese then invaded the Y.M.C.A., which was almost entirely under Chinese care on account of the absence of two of its four American general secretaries, Messrs. E. H. Munson and R. G. Gold, at Shanghai. The other two, Messrs. R. A. Leake and T. C. McConnell, do not live on the premises. The only foreigner there was Mr. R. E. Buchanan, general superintendant.

CONSTABLE IS KILLED

The Japanese did everything they could to provoke the occupants, it is said. Four Y.M.C.A. students were seriously wounded. Soldiers and police arrived on the scene later, but the Japanese were defiant and fired on them, killing one constable.

The constables arrested three invaders, but they were later released upon the request of the Japanese Acting Consul, Mr. K. Mori. The students abducted by the Japanese were also released upon the demand of Mr. Wang, Commissioner of Foreign Affairs.

The shops refused to open their doors Monday.

Mr. E. H. Munson, who leaves here today for the national conference of Y.M.C.A. secretaries at Hangchow said yesterday that another outbreak is anticipated. Ever since the students' agitation in April, feeling between Chinese and Japanese in the Southern port has been running high.

JAPANESE SHIFT BLAME

"You see Foochow is under military administration, and all Chinese must obey the Tuchun, General Li Hao-chi," said Mr. Munson. "On October the 10th the Military Governor prohibited all celebrations and the Chinese did not celebrate at all in deference to his orders. On the birthday of the Emperor of Japan, however, in spite of the promises of the Consul from Japan that there would be no celebrations among his people, a large parade took place through the main street. Most of the paraders were drunk.

"With a clash, Chinese shopkeepers, closed their doors as the procession entered their streets. The Japanese, however, placed the blame on the Y.M.C.A. and charged it with having instigated the strike.

"Opposition against the Japanese has been seething in intensity. Evidently, this is the result."

Asked what stand the Foochow Y.M.C.A. took during the students' agitation Mr. Munson said [illegible] association was always neutral as an organisation although certain individuals were sympathetic with the students.

Mr. Munson said there was no anti-Japanese propaganda going on in the organisation. He said the association had disallowed any anti-Japanese movement on the premises and he would be very much surprised if there was a meeting held for that purpose at the association on Sunday night. He was of the opinion that the students were going to the evening bible classes when they were assaulted. The Foochow Y.M.C.A. has a regular attendance of 600 for their Sunday evening bible classes.

Mr. Munson has telegraphed for details of the incident both from the Foochow Y.M.C.A. and the American Consul there, Mr. George C. Hanson.

TERMED INFRINGEMENT

Rigorous protest with the Japanese Legation in Peking against the Japanese encroachment on Chinese students in Foochow was asked in a telegram despatched yesterday by the local Students' Union to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Peking. The message styled the unwarranted attack of the Japanese in Fukien as an infringement upon the sovereignty of China.

The same telegram demanded the cancellation of the Kirin-Hweiling Railway Loan with Tokio, which was reported exclusively by THE CHINA PRESS Sunday.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT TO CUT PRICE OF COAL

Reduction To Be Made As Soon As It Can Be Done Without Needing Subsidy

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 14.—In the House of Commons yesterday replying to Mr. Adamson, Leader of the Labor Party, Sir Auckland Geddes said that for the fifteen weeks since the 6/- a ton increase had been placed on the price of coal the output had been slightly below sixty million tons. The Government, he said, was prepared to reduce the amount of the increased price immediately it could be done without asking the Treasury for a subsidy. If they could feel sure that there would be no stoppages apart from holidays, the Government might lower the price, not by 6/-, which was impossible with the present output, but by some much smaller amount, subject to it being reconsidered.

The Government, Sir Auckland Geddes added, intended shortly to introduce a bill to limit coal owners profits to ½d. per ton during the financial year.

With reference to the above, the Times Lobby correspondent understands that the reduction in the price of coal will be 2/- a ton.

COLONIAL POSITIONS DISCUSSED IN COMMONS

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 13.—In the House of Commons today, Mr. Gershom Stewart drew attention to the recent appointment of a senior official of the Home Civil Service to a first class colonial governorship. Lieut. Col. L. C. M. Amery, Under Secretary for the Colonies replied that Colonial Governorships were always open to other services, besides the Colonial service, and that any attempt to narrow the field of selection would be open to serious objection in the interests of the efficiency of the public service.

He entirely agreed that there would be many advantages in establishing a system of interchange between the Home and Colonial Services, and the possibility of it had often been considered but the difficulties were very great.

Elections Being Held In Three Countries

Results Of Voting In France, Italy And Belgium Most Uncertain

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 15.—General elections take place in France, Italy and Belgium tomorrow. The results are most uncertain, as apart from war changes, the electorate and franchise in all cases have been much modified, including the introduction of proportional representation in France and Belgium.

There has been intense Bolshevik propaganda in France and Italy and much disorder and even bloodshed in North Italy.

Y.M.C.A. CONFERENCE STARTS SESSIONS TODAY

Over 150 Secretaries And Physical Directors To Attend Meeting At Hangchow

The Y.M.C.A. National Conference opens in Hangchow this afternoon. It is a meeting that is held but once in three years and from the count kept of those who visited the national headquarters yesterday it is expected that about 155 representatives of the organisation from all parts of China will attend the biggest conference yet held.

The conference is of both Chinese and foreign secretaries and physical directors. It will be held in the new building of the Hangchow Y.M.C.A. which has just been completed.

They will meet for eight days and when the body of delegates again passes through Shanghai next week it is probably that there will be some sort of reception and entertainment for them at the local Association.

Among the Shanghai delegates to the Hangchow meeting are Messrs. S. K. Tsao, K. S. Zee, D. H. Tong, W. W. Lockwood, J. H. Geldart, George A. Fitch, J. C. Clark, S. M. Doong, David Yui, C. W. Harvey, H. A. Wilbur, Arthur Rugh, S. E. Hening, Y. K. Woo, T. Z. Koo, C. L. Chen and J. Z. Zee.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA TO EXCHANGE CAPTIVES

Denied Mission From London Will Discuss Any Other Point With Reds

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 14.—Mr. James O'Grady the Labor M.P. is proceeding to Copenhagen to negotiate with M. Litvinoff, former Bolshevik "Ambassador" in London, representing the Soviet Government regarding the exchange of military and civil prisoners.

It is officially announced that the object of Mr. James O'Grady's mission to Copenhagen is solely to discuss with M. Litvinoff the return of British civilian and military prisoners at present in the hands of the Soviet Government. There is no question of a discussion of any other subject.

London, November 15.—Much curiosity centers in Mr. James O'Grady's mission to Copenhagen to discuss an exchange of prisoners with M. Litvinoff, the Soviet representative, in view of a statement in a Copenhagen newspaper that the conference, besides the question of prisoners, will concern "closer relations between the Entente and Soviet Russia."

The statement is not confirmed but the Prime Minister's hostile critics in the London press dwell on the danger of an informal peace conference developing out of the meeting at Copenhagen.

The Government will be asked in the House of Commons on Monday to set apart a day to discuss Russian policy.

Much importance is attached in Paris to the interview which M. Pichon, French Minister for Foreign Affairs, had with members of the British Cabinet during his recent visit to London. An inspired statement declares that it was agreed that neither France nor Great Britain would further assist the anti-Bolsheviki.

ments that are leading the fight against Bolshevism have been supplied with money, ammunition and food for several months and neither France nor Britain will make any further sacrifices; but neither of them will open negotiations of any nature tending to strengthen Bolshevism.

A message from Prague states that on the occasion of a meeting held by party leaders, M. Benes declared that the Government's chief care at present was the speedy repatriation of the Czecho-Slovak troops in Siberia via Vladivostok according to a plan to which General Janin, Commander-in-Chief of the Allied troops in Siberia, gave his complete approbation.

The Government has chartered four Japanese transports one of these has already arrived and two are at Vladivostok ready to sail.

America has allowed Czecho-Slovakia to take ten big steamers stationed in Chinese waters and has also placed a certain sum of money at its disposal. The Czecho-Slovak Government thus is displaying its readiness to comply with the wishes of the Allied Powers and refuses to meddle with Russian internal toubles and is doing its best to repatriate its troops as soon as possible.

THE SUBMARINES AND

BOVRIL

By Appointment

During the War food supplies were greatly restricted in the United Kingdom owing to the submarine blockade, and Bovril was so indispensable to the soldiers, wounded, and the people that it had to be retained in the British Isles, where it is made, or sent to the fighting fronts.

Fresh supplies of Bovril have now arrived and there is no longer any need to make shift with substitutes which lack its unique vital and energising properties.

Bovril is the food whose body-building powers have been proved by independent scientific experiments to be from 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

Flower Show Awards Made At Opening Of Exposition

Beautiful Vision Greets Visitors To Exhibit On Bund By Shanghai Horticultural Society

An Alladin's Garden wherein scintillating lights flashed on a myriad of colors, a riot of Nature's fairest blooms; was the vision that greeted visitors at the Autumn Flower Show of the Shanghai Horticultural Society on the Bund last night. There were chrysanthemums in every color, shade and variety, ferns beautiful beyond description, dahlias that might well have been shown at the world famous dahlia show at Santa Rosa, California, home of Luther Burbank, the "plant wizard, and a most amazing exhibit of choice vegetables. Altogether the show was a wonderful exposition of the horticultural possibilities of Shanghai and vicinity.

In spite of the cool weather there was a good attendance in the afternoon and a gay throng assembled last evening to see the show. The exposition will be closed after tonight.

Awards were made yesterday as follows:

Here is the list of prize-winners:

AMERICAN WOMEN HEAR MRS. M. T. PRICE TALK

Symbols Of Chinese Art Are Described At Tuesday Meet

BY HELEN WILLIAMS

At the regular meeting of the American Woman's Club at the Carlton Cafe yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Maurice T. Price gave a most interesting talk on "Symbols in Chinese Art."

"Art is the praise of life" is a quotation applied to art in general, but it is particularly true concerning the art of China, for their art is woven into the fibre of their lives. Art in China is not only a part of the lives of the educated but it is one of principle factors in the life of all Chinese.

It is not necessary to go to great collections to study the motifs and symbols used, for they can be seen upon the lintels of the doorways of the houses, and the shops, on boats and upon all objects in daily use among the people.

Their garments are embroidered with emblems of happy meaning and with figures from legendary and historical lore, she said. No object worthy of any sort of decoration fails to have quaint or whimsical, or noble and highly moral symbols and signs wrought upon it.

CHINESE PSYCHOLOGY

As a rule the Occidental expects only usefulness and perhaps beauty on things in daily use but the Chinese always look for the symbol or meaning of any decoration.

To illustrate this, Mrs. Price showed Mrs. F. Ayscough's tea service and explained the meanings of the different motifs on each piece. The bamboo used in the decoration of this set symbolises the seven virtues, cleanliness, separation from the world, purity of heart, strength, orderliness, perfection and eternal endurance.

There are many reasons for the universal use of symbolism, which involves long discussions of China's history and psychology.

They believe that symbols help to confer the blessings they represent and they desire to put into concrete form their wishes for one to whom they make gifts. As an example, to a literary man they would make a gift decorated with the ancient symbols of scholarship. The decorations used at a wedding are the good wishes for the couple expressed in a pictorial or symbolic way.

To thoroughly understand the origins and meanings of the symbols seen in Chinese life and objets d'art, it would be necessary to go back into the ancient history and literature, sacred and secular, of China. There are bronze vessels and bells in existence that were made between 1766-249 B.C., and the symbols used on them are still in vogue today.

There is a fundamentally different attitude between the Oriental and Occidental, and this is particularly noticeable in their different objects of art. The Oriental glorifies nature and man as a part of nature, while in most cases the Occidental glorifies man.

Mrs. Price's lecture was illustrated by some splendid slides, showing in objects of art, Taoist, Confucian and Buddhist symbols.

WILL MEET TUESDAY

The literary Department of the American Woman's Club will hold a meeting Tuesday in the Missionary Prayer Room, at Union Church, at 4:30. Mrs. Stockton will read a paper on "Art Appreciation."

Next Monday a bridge party will be given at the Columbia Country Club. This is the second of a series of four. Tea will be served promptly at 3:30 and playing will begin at 4:15. Ladies who have tables will kindly send in the names of the players to Mrs. Lethine, so that seats may be assigned. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Stocker. The proceeds of the bridge are to go to the Permanent Equipment Fund.

Mrs. Rugh again spoke of the Club bulletin which was proposed at the last meeting. She suggested that there should be eight editions a year, and that the bulletin should cover completely the meetings of all departments, and also that there should be a column of news brevities.

Mrs. Sawyer announced that she had postal cards with the names and addresses of all the sailors in this harbor at the present time and she requested that various members use these cards to invite the boys to their homes. There was a generous response. She also said that since the Social Service Department first become interested in the boys, fifty-two had been entertained in the homes of the members.

Mrs. Lockwood, Mrs. Fryer and Mrs. Raven were elected to the three year term on the Nominating Committee and Mrs. Hudson to the two year term.

The Names of the new members as announced yesterday are as follows: Mrs. L. W. Strawn, Mrs. A. M. Hicks, Miss Bessey Dennis, Mrs. C. J. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. G. M. McMillan, Mrs. Cavanaugh, Mrs. C. B. Perkins, Miss Emma Lester, Miss Lyle McCarthy, Miss Catherine Curtis, Miss Hester Carter, Mrs. D. J. Lewis and Mrs. Frank T. Williams.

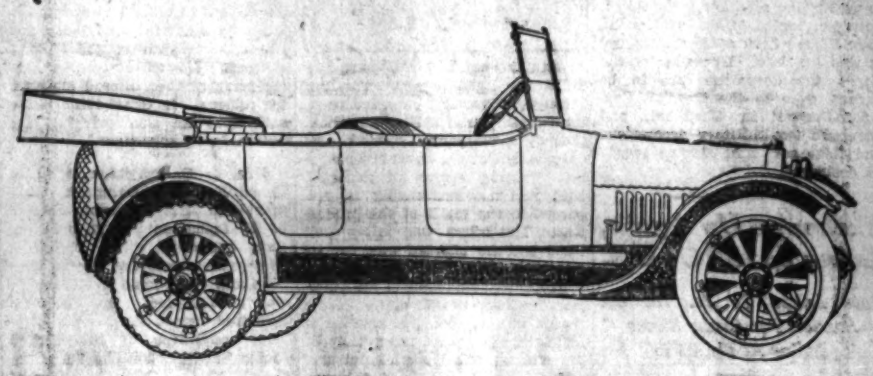
Buick
MOTOR CARS



Power—and Where it Comes From

THE motor is nine-tenths of a motor car. The Buick Valve-in-Head motor is still built on a principle that was evolved when the motor car industry was originated. Every passing day adds proof that this principle is correct. It is a principle that is backed by scientific knowledge, by twenty years of successful manufacturing experience, and by a half-million loyal, enthusiastic Buick owners.

Buick power, supplied by the matchless Buick Valve-in-Head motor, carries the Buick owner wherever he wants to go, slowly or quickly, quietly, steadily, irresistibly. In all things other than power the Buick is equal to the best. In power it stands alone.

Ask any one of the half-million owners of Buick Valve-in-Head motor cars what it is about the Buick that most appeals to him. Invariably the answer will be—power.

Asked what stand the Foochow Y.M.C.A. took during the students' agitation Mr. Munson said ... association was always neutral as an organisation although certain individuals were sympathetic with the students.

Mr. Munson said there was no anti-Japanese propaganda going on in the organisation. He said the association had disallowed any anti-Japanese movement on the premises and he would be very much surprised if there was a meeting held for that purpose at the association on Sunday night. He was of the opinion that the students were going to the evening bible classes when they were assaulted. The Foochow Y.M.C.A. has a regular attendance of 600 for their Sunday evening bible classes.

Mr. Munson has telegraphed for details of the incident both from the Foochow Y.M.C.A. and the American Consul there, Mr. George C. Hanson.

TERMED INFRINGEMENT

Rigorous protest with the Japanese Legation in Peking against the Japanese encroachment on Chinese students in Foochow was asked in a telegram despatched yesterday by the local Students' Union to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Peking. The message styled the unwarranted attack of the Japanese in Fukien as an infringement upon the sovereignty of China.

The same telegram demanded the cancellation of the Kirin-Hweiling Railway Loan with Tokio, which was reported exclusively by THE CHINA PRESS Sunday.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 18.—Telegrams from Foochow state that a body of students parading the streets on November 16 came into collision with a group of Japanese who seriously wounded several of the students.

Several Chinese police who attempted to aid the students were also seriously wounded.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT TO CUT PRICE OF COAL

Reduction To Be Made As Soon As it Can Be Done Without Needing Subsidy

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 14.—In the House of Commons yesterday replying to Mr. Adamson, Leader of the Labor Party, Sir Auckland Geddes said that for the fifteen weeks since the 6/- a ton increase had been placed on the price of coal the output had been slightly below sixty million tons. The Government, he said, was prepared to reduce the amount of the increased price immediately it could be done without asking the Treasury for a subsidy. If they could feel sure that there would be no stoppages apart from holidays, the Government might lower the price, not by 6/-, which was impossible with the present output, but by some much smaller amount, subject to it being reconsidered.

The Government, Sir Auckland Geddes added, intended shortly to introduce a bill to limit coal owners profits to ½d. per ton during the financial year.

With reference to the above, the Times Lobby correspondent understands that the reduction in the price of coal will be 2/- a ton.

COLONIAL POSITIONS DISCUSSED IN COMMONS

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 13.—In the House of Commons today, Mr. Gershom Stewart drew attention to the recent appointment of a senior official of the Home Civil Service to a first class colonial governorship. Lieut. Col. L. C. M. Amery, Under Secretary for the Colonies replied that Colonial Governorships were always open to other services, besides the Colonial service, and that any attempt to narrow the field of selection would be open to serious objection in the interests of the efficiency of the public service.

He entirely agreed that there would be many advantages in establishing a system of interchange between the Home and Colonial Services, and the possibility of it had often been considered but the difficulties were very great.

Elections Being Held In Three Countries

Results Of Voting In France, Italy And Belgium Most Uncertain

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 15.—General elections take place in France, Italy and Belgium tomorrow. The results are most uncertain, as apart from war changes, the electorate and franchise in all cases have been much modified, including the introduction of proportional representation in France and Belgium.

There has been intense Bolshevik propaganda in France and Italy and much disorder and even bloodshed in North Italy.

Y.M.C.A. CONFERENCE STARTS SESSIONS TODAY

Over 150 Secretaries And Physical Directors To Attend Meeting At Hangchow

The Y.M.C.A. National Conference opens in Hangchow this afternoon. It is a meeting that is held but once in three years and from the count kept of those who visited the national headquarters yesterday it is expected that about 155 representatives of the organisation from all parts of China will attend the biggest conference yet held.

The conference is of both Chinese and foreign secretaries and physical directors. It will be held in the new building of the Hangchow Y.M.C.A. which has just been completed.

They will meet for eight days and when the body of delegates again passes through Shanghai next week it is probably that there will be some sort of reception and entertainment for them at the local Association.

Among the Shanghai delegates to the Hangchow meeting are Messrs. S. K. Tsao, K. S. Zee, D. H. Tong, W. W. Lockwood, J. H. Geldart, George A. Fitch, J. C. Clark, S. M. Doong, David Yui, C. W. Harvey, H. A. Wilbur, Arthur Rugh, S. E. Hening, Y. K. Woo, T. Z. Koo, C. L. Chen and J. Z. Zee.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA TO EXCHANGE CAPTIVES

Denied Mission From London Will Discuss Any Other Point With Reds

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 14.—Mr. James O'Grady the Labor M.P. is proceeding to Copenhagen to negotiate with M. Litvinoff, former Bolshevik "Ambassador" in London, representing the Soviet Government regarding the exchange of military and civil prisoners.

It is officially announced that the object of Mr. James O'Grady's mission to Copenhagen is solely to discuss with M. Litvinoff the return of British civilian and military prisoners at present in the hands of the Soviet Government. There is no question of a discussion of any other subject.

London, November 15.—Much curiosity centers in Mr. James O'Grady's mission to Copenhagen to discuss an exchange of prisoners with M. Litvinoff, the Soviet representative, in view of a statement in a Copenhagen newspaper that the conference, besides the question of prisoners, will concern "closer relations between the Entente and Soviet Russia."

The statement is not confirmed but the Prime Minister's hostile critics in the London press dwell on the danger of an informal peace conference developing out of the meeting at Copenhagen.

The Government will be asked in the House of Commons on Monday to set apart a day to discuss Russian policy.

Much importance is attached in Paris to the interview which M. Pichon, French Minister for Foreign Affairs, had with members of the British Cabinet during his recent visit to London. An inspired statement declares that it was agreed that neither France nor Great Britain would further assist the anti-Bolsheviki.

Omsk Captured By Bolshevists

ments that are leading the fight against Bolshevism have been supplied with money, ammunition and food for several months and neither France nor Britain will make any further sacrifices; but neither of them will open negotiations of any nature tending to strengthen Bolshevism.

A message from Prague states that on the occasion of a meeting held by party leaders, M. Benes declared that the Government's chief care at present was the speedy repatriation of the Czecho-Slovak troops in Siberia via Vladivostok according to a plan to which General Janin, Commander-in-Chief of the Allied troops in Siberia, gave his complete approbation.

The Government has chartered four Japanese transports one of these has already arrived and two are at Vladivostok ready to sail.

America has allowed Czecho-Slovakia to take ten big steamers stationed in Chinese waters and has also placed a certain sum of money at its disposal. The Czecho-Slovak Government thus is displaying its readiness to comply with the wishes of the Allied Powers and refuses to meddle with Russian internal toubles and is doing its best to repatriate its troops as soon as possible.

THE SUBMARINES AND

BOVRIL

By Appointment

During the War food supplies were greatly restricted in the United Kingdom owing to the submarine blockade, and Bovril was so indispensable to the soldiers, wounded, and the people that it had to be retained in the British Isles, where it is made, or sent to the fighting fronts.

Fresh supplies of Bovril have now arrived and there is no longer any need to make shift with substitutes which lack its unique vital and energising properties.

Bovril is the food whose body-building powers have been proved by independent scientific experiments to be from 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

Flower Show Awards Made At Opening Of Exposition

Beautiful Vision Greets Visitors To Exhibit On Bund By Shanghai Horticultural Society

An Alladin's Garden wherein scintillating lights flashed on a myriad of colors, a riot of Nature's fairest blooms; was the vision that greeted visitors at the Autumn Flower Show of the Shanghai Horticultural Society on the Bund last night. There were chrysanthemums in every color, shade and variety, ferns beautiful beyond description, dahlias that might well have been shown at the world famous dahlia show at Santa Rosa, California, home of Luther Burbank, the "plant wizard, and a most amazing exhibit of choice vegetables. Altogether the show was a wonderful exposition of the horticultural posibilities of Shanghai and vicinity.

In spite of the cool weather there was a good attendance in the afternoon and a gay throng assembled last evening to see the show. The exposition will be closed after tonight.

Awards were made yesterday as follows:

Here is the list of prize-winners:

AMERICAN WOMEN HEAR MRS. M. T. PRICE TALK

Symbols Of Chinese Art Are Described At Tuesday Meet

BY HELEN WILLIAMS

At the regular meeting of the American Woman's Club at the Carlton Cafe yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Maurice T. Price gave a most interesting talk on "Symbols in Chinese Art."

"Art is the praise of life" is a quotation applied to art in general, but it is particularly true concerning the art of China, for their art is woven into the fibre of their lives. Art in China is not only a part of the lives of the educated but it is one of principle factors in the life of all Chinese.

It is not necessary to go to great collections to study the motifs and symbols used, for they can be seen upon the lintels of the doorways of the houses, and the shops, on boats and upon all objects in daily use among the people.

Their garments are embroidered with emblems of happy meaning and with figures from legendary and historical lore, she said. No object worthy of any sort of decoration fails to have quaint or whimsical, or noble and highly moral symbols and signs wrought upon it.

CHINESE PSYCHOLOGY

As a rule the Occidental expects only usefulness and perhaps beauty on things in daily use but the Chinese always look for the symbol or meaning of any decoration.

To illustrate this, Mrs. Price showed Mrs. F. Ayscough's tea service and explained the meanings of the different motifs on each piece. The bamboo used in the decoration of this set symbolises the seven virtues, cleanliness, separation from the world purity of heart, strength, orderliness, perfection and eternal endurance.

There are many reasons for the universal use of symbolism, which involves long discussions of China's history and psychology.

They believe that symbols help to confer the blessings they represent and they desire to put into concrete form their wishes for one to whom they make gifts. As an example, to a literary man they would make a gift decorated with the ancient symbols of scholarship. The decorations used at a wedding are the good wishes for the couple expressed in a pictorial or symbolic way.

To thoroughly understand the origins and meanings of the symbols seen in Chinese life and objets d'art, it would be necessary to go back into the ancient history and literature, sacred and secular, of China. There are bronze vessels and bells in existence that were made between 1766-249 B.C., and the symbols used on them are still in vogue today.

There is a fundamentally different attitude between the Oriental and Occidental, and this is particularly noticeable in their different objects of art. The Oriental glorifies nature and man as a part of nature, while in most cases the Occidental glorifies man.

Mrs. Price's lecture was illustrated by some splendid slides, showing in objects of art, Taoist, Confucian and Buddhist symbols.

WILL MEET TUESDAY

The literary Department of the American Woman's Club will hold a meeting Tuesday in the Missionary Prayer Room, at Union Church, at 4:30. Mrs. Stockton will read a paper on "Art Appreciation."

Next Monday a bridge party will be given at the Columbia Country Club. This is the second of a series of four. Tea will be served promptly at 3:30 and playing will begin at 4:15. Ladies who have tables will kindly send in the names of the players to Mrs. Lethine, so that seats may be assigned. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Stocker. The proceeds of the bridge are to go to the Permanent Equipment Fund.

Mrs. Rugh again spoke of the Club bulletin which was proposed at the last meeting. She suggested that there should be eight editions a year, and that the bulletin should cover completely the meetings of all departments, and also that there should be a column of news brevities.

Mrs. Sawyer announced that she had postal cards with the names and addresses of all the sailors in this harbor at the present time and she requested that various members use these cards to invite the boys to their homes. There was a generous response. She also said that since the Social Service Department first become interested in the boys, fifty-two had been entertained in the homes of the members.

Mrs. Lockwood, Mrs. Fryer and Mrs. Raven were elected to the three year term on the Nominating Committee and Mrs. Hudson to the two year term.

The Names of the new members as announced yesterday are as follows: Mrs. L. W. Strawn, Mrs. A. M. Hicks, Miss Bessey Dennis, Mrs. C. J. Fitspatrick, Mrs. G. M. McMillan, Mrs. Cavanaugh, Mrs. C. B. Perkins, Miss Emma Lester, Miss Lyle McCarthy, Miss Catherine Curtis, Miss Hester Carter, Mrs. D. J. Lewis and Mrs. Frank T. Williams.

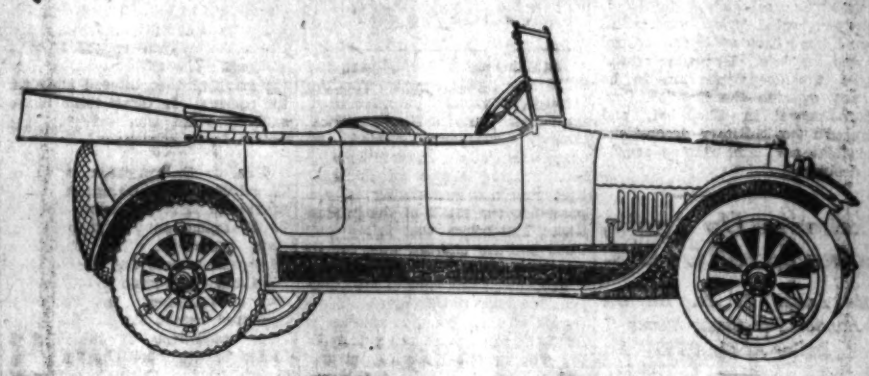
Buick MOTOR CARS



Power—and Where it Comes From

THE motor is nine-tenths of a motor car. The Buick Valve-in-Head motor is still built on a principle that was evolved when the motor car industry was originated. Every passing day adds proof that this principle is correct. It is a principle that is backed by scientific knowledge, by twenty years of successful manufacturing experience, and by a half-million loyal, enthusiastic Buick owners.

Buick power, supplied by the matchless Buick Valve-in-Head motor, carries the Buick owner wherever he wants to go, slowly or quickly, quietly, steadily, irresistibly. In all things other than power the Buick is equal to the best. In power it stands alone.

Ask any one of the half-million owners of Buick Valve-in-Head motor cars what it is about the Buick that most appeals to him. Invariably the answer will be—power.

COUNT DE SAVINE GETS 18 MONTHS IN JAIL

Sentenced For Forgery Of Russian Documents; Decorations To Be Destroyed

Count C. T. de Savine, a Russian without official recognition from any of the Shanghai consulates, was found guilty yesterday in the Mixed Court on the charge of forging various Russian official documents. His sentence at the hands of Russian Assessor Ivanoff and Magistrate Li was 18 months of penal servitude, and destruction of his two military decorations.

Some time ago the Count was involved in difficulties because of threatening letters sent the Russian Consul-General. Examination of his passport credentials at that time demonstrated that the signatures were probably forgeries. Inquiries were made and the charges on which he was tried yesterday included that of forging the official seal of the Russian consulate at Yokohama and the public seal of the superintendent of police, Harbin.

At the opening of the trial, the defendant asked for delay in order to procure an attorney. The Court, however, ruled that application should have been made earlier and it was too late. By order of the Court the documents are to be turned over to the Russian Consulate-General in Shanghai, and accused's two military decorations and false seal and stamps are to be destroyed.

Exchange Up Again, Going To 155 On U.S.

Rate Leaps To 7s. 7d. On London For Cash; Silver Dollar At Tls. 0.765

Exchange records were shattered again yesterday when the rate on America leaped to 155 and business was done with London at 7s. 7d. for the tael. Yesterday afternoon even small amounts were sold on America at 155. This means that for about eighty-five Mexican dollars, the bank would slip the buyer a draft for $100 in United States currency.

And G.$3,500,000 worth of silver arrived here yesterday on the Empress of Asia and the Venezuela. The Empress brought 1,100 bars, with the Pacific Mail liner arriving with 1,500. The Asia also landed G.$500,000 worth of gold bullion in fourteen boxes.

Shipment of over $00,000 dollars in silver to Tsinan, Chefoo, Tientsin, Hankow and Soochow by the local banks and the suspension of the supply from the Nanking Mint are responsible to the continued rise in the price of the silver dollar in Shanghai, it is said. The dollar was worth Tls. 0.765 at the close of the market yesterday against the standard value of Tls. 0.73.

'The Triumph Of Venus'

Long study and intense preparation is behind Captain Edwin Bower Hesser's impressive film spectacle "The Triumph of Venus." Which is to be screened at the Olympic commencing Friday of this week. In this production, which presents Betty Lee of classic charm as the goddess heroine, all the ancient atmosphere has been presented without the least clashing note of modern crudity.

Captain Hesser had long had in mind the idea of presenting the beauties of classic mythology to the public. "I feel," he said, "that the influence of the fascinating stories of the deities should be more widely felt. For thousands of years the inspiration to poets and artists from the legends of ancient Greece has been a dominating factor in literature and art. The lore of the Olympian gods has become a part of education in every portion of the world, and I have been surprised that heretofore no really great production based upon Greek mythology has been made. For five years I have made a study of its possibilities in relation to motion pictures and have chosen as the keynote of my production the most appealing individuality of them all—Venus, the Goddess of Love and Beauty, who with her tiny son, Cupid, so often directed the destiny of mortals. Around Venus as a central figure there are nearly a hundred legends—and at some time or other nearly every male god of the Olympic realm fell into her spell."

"The Triumph of Venus" tells of one of the immortal loves of the Beauty Goddess and one of her mortal loves as well. A story actually thrilling has given wonderful opportunity for spectacular effect, the interest centering around the conflict between Venus and Diana, the Moon Goddess, though practically every Olympian deity is concerned in the plot. There has been no attempt to modernise the story in any way—it is absolutely classic in its conception and has been carried out strictly upon ideal lines. Almost five months were used in filming the production. The range of operations in making the picture extended from Maine and New Hampshire to the southern part of Florida. Spots of scenic grandeur were picked out long in advance of the actual filming and the atmosphere of ancient Greece has certainly been caught to a marked extent. The costumes are artistic in every sense of the word and the whole production has been made without sparing expense.

Concert At Astor

Mr. Peter Selivanoff, noted basso of the Imperial Opera of Petrograd, is to sing tomorrow night at the Astor House Hotel assisted by Mrs. J. Markovsky, soprano, Mr. V. Volin, baritone, Mr. Tuevsky, tenor, Mr. N. Velenti, pianist and Mr. A. Pressan. Mr. Selivanoff is considered one of the greatest singers that Russia has produced. His training was first in Petrograd and then for a number of years in Milan. Recently he had an unusual success in the larger cities of Japan. Booking for tomorrow night's concert may be made at Moutrie's.

Vanity Fair

With the motif of a Gilbert and Sullivan light opera running through a variety entertainment, the Edgar Warwick New Revusical Comedy Company opened an engagement at the Lyceum Theater last evening before an audience that was not numerically in proporton to the merit of the production. The house was fairly well filled but the offering was, for its class, excellent.

From the standpoint of an American reviewer the personnel of the troupe was meager, but viewing it from the same place the quality of the singing voices was exceptional and the dramatic art of the production good.

Art of make up, as it is known among companies of the kind, seemed to be somewhat slighted put red hands, arms—and legs, as seen in the stockingless number—were more than compensated for by the voices that intrigued the auditors by a carefully careless blending of light and grand opera with American jazz. Trovatore, Pinafore and Floradora mixed delightfully when the Warwick songsters attempted a medley and Leslie Holmes disproved the canard that monologists cannot sing.

It would be delightful to run the gamut and tell just what each and every member of the company did and can do—but it's better that the people of Shanghai see and hear it for themselves.

Suffice it to say that the burlesques are innimitable, the music worthy of the name, the comedy really deserving of a laugh and that it is worth the time and money of anyone to see the repetition of the bill tonight and the changes that are to succeed it.

Discusses Situation Of British Colonies

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 13.—In a letter to the Times Mr. J. R. Innes formerly Judge of the Supreme Court of the Malay States, referring to a remark by a correspondent of the Times with regard to Mesopotamia that "the modern Englishman has come to realise that the colonies in which Whites cannot settle permanently are a great responsibility but not a great asset to the Empire," cites the Malay States as an example of a country under British administration which is a very great asset to the Empire although Whites cannot settle and bring up families there.

Cantonese Admiral Is Slated For Post

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, November 18.—It is reported that the Cantonese Admiral Li Ho will be nominated Vice-Minister of the Navy when Admiral Sah Chen-ping's appointment as Minister of the Navy is confirmed. Admiral Li Ho was Vice-Minister of the Navy in 1914. He resigned because he refused "to worship military gods."

Brilliant French Dress Periods Shown In Styles

BY HELEN WILLIAMS

Distinctly new lines and many novel features are being shown by the leading Paris couturiers at their opening shows but no startling innovations have been introduced. No particular period or influence has inspired the styles of the season but they reflect in more or less modified forms the distinctive features which gained prominence during the most brilliant periods of French dress in the past. The result is a series of graceful and pleasing styles. In the case of evening toilettes, the gowns are either of the most extravagant and luxurious type, or, if the wearer perfers, they may be very simple of design.

The hip draperies of the skirts and the fitting lines are the most striking features of the new models. Dresses, after having been the great favorties for many seasons are still leading the parade of fashions, and they are being classified as walking-frocks, semi-toilettes and full evening.

FOR WALKING FROCKS

For the walking-frocks, the great feature is the three-quarter length coat, which is cut upon long closely fitting lines. These are being worn with the more or less tailored dress. Skirts are fuller than in the past, and while some short skirts are being shown, the general tendency is toward the longer skirt. Considerable diversity is being shown as some of the skirts are the long straight lines, and others have the new bouffante draped effects, which are accentuated by the employment of bands of crinoline. Paniers of tulle, net or lace, are also in strong evidence. Tiers, made of flounces of varying widths will be extremely popular this season, and a skirt of this type always makes for a slender and graceful silhouette.

The brocaded bags which have been so popular in Paris for evening and party wear are being shown at Boyes, Bassett and Co. The combinations of colors in these bags are exquisite. There are bags of blue and silver, some of gold and red and others of black and gold. Most of them are small, with mirrors in them and plenty of room for the necessary handkerchief and powder-puff. Then there are some smart suits to be seen here, one in particular being very attractive. It is a leather colored duvetyn, with a mahagony vest embroidered in black. The coat of the suit blouses slightly in the back, but the lines of the front of coat are long. There is a black chiffon dress being shown here trimmed with steel beads, with designs in white Angora embroidered into the hands of beads.

NEW KNITTING WOOL

All those in Shanghai who have a mania for knitting can now indulge it to the fullest extent, as Squires Bingham have just received a shipment of soft, new knitting wool in all colors. They are also showing a wonderful quality of Angora wool in all the popular shades and also in the new colors. There are some dainty ribboned shoe-trees that are just the thing for evening or fancy slippers. The breakfast jackets of chiffon velvet are very pretty and are just the thing for this time of the year, as they have the necessary warmth combined with beauty.

Silberman's is showing some unusually good-looking woolen sweaters with caps to match. Some of these are the regulation knitted sweaters and others are made of camel's hair wool. There are camel's hair wool scarf and cap sets that are very smart when worn for golf or walking. The beautiful pearl handled manicure sets shown here would enhance the appearance of the dresser.

There is nothing that is quite so attractive at a dance or at the theater as a beautifully attired woman whose coiffure is faultless. An extra touch, however, that always adds to the ensemble is a beautiful comb of some kind. These can be purchased here in many varieties.

TAMS RETAIN POPULARITY

Tams are extremely popular for all sports wear this season. Hall and Holtz have just received a shipment of Angora cloths in all colors that the millinery department will make up to order in the form of tams. They have also a new supply of dainty collars in white, green, and blue. Some are white with a narrow edging of lace and others are white with a border of some bright color. These collars are always such an attractive edition to dark dresses. For the blouse or for underwear, there is a strong beautiful quality of crepe-de-chine being shown here.

Plaid tartans, which always make smart frocks for the colder weather, are one of this week's features at Whiteaway and Laidlaw. Then there are some wonderful coats. There are many of popular materials in them as for instance duvetyn and suede-cloth. Some of them are fur-lines. Metallic lace of all widths and designs in gold and silver can be purchased here. These laces are beautiful and are a decided addition to the evening frock or wrap. Another form of elaborate trimming found here is the brilliantly colored sequins, and there are also the bright irridescents.

Lau Kiu Chwang's have some beautiful brocades that could be made up into very elaborate evening gowns or wraps. There is one piece of blue with gold brocaded figures of butterflies and roses. Then there are the silver and gold cloths which are the right weight and texture for use in the making of slippers. Lau Kiu Chwang's also sell silk stockings, and they will always dye any stockings purchased here free of charge, to match a gown.

Far Eastern News Notes

Tokio Suffers From Small Change Famine

The Japan Advertiser of November 6 says: The periodical scarcity of coppers and nickels is making itself felt again with the approaching close of the year and many retail shops are tendering postage stamps, in place of change, tramcar tickets or "commodity coupons," against the police regulations, or refuse to give any change at all. A few years ago there existed shortage of small silver currency and the persistent clamor of tradespeople, strongly supported by the Chambers of Commerce, resulted in inducing the Government to issue paper currency of small value. This relieved the pressure of the market to an appreciable degree. At present there is a large amount of dirty, crumpled small notes in circulation but coppers and nickels have disappeared from circulation as if by magic.

Investigations by the police have resulted in the discovery that there are many people in Tokio who are engaged in buying up coppers and nickels and selling them to money changers. Evidently they find this a very lucrative business since there are a great many people who are willing to pay a large commission for small money. The legal premium authorised by the police to be collected by money changers is 6 sen per yen, but there are people ready to pay as much commission as 30 sen per yen. It is surprising therefore that coppers and nickels should disappear from circulation. Shopkeepers sometimes are absolutely unable to give any change. The police are looking for those who are engaged in the buying up of small money but apparently they are rather difficult customers to locate.

No Resignation For Gen. Wu Ping-hsiang

The Peking Daily News of November 15 says:

In connection with the resignation of General Wu Ping-hsiang, Chief of the Metropolitan Police, the Ministry of Interior has issued the following rescript in refusing to allow him to vacate his post:

"When the resignation of General Wu Ping-hsiang, Chief of the Metropolitan Police, was submitted to this Ministry, it was decided that although he was unable to attend office on account of illness it was impossible for the Ministry to appoint a successor for this important post, which had been so well occupied by him during the past few years, and moreover changes would be most undesirable at such a critical time as this. When the petition of resignation was transmitted to the President, he at once granted General Wu a sick leave of ten days, at the expiration of which he should attend his office as usual, etc. On the 8th instant this Ministry received a petition from the Peking Chamber of Commerce stating that the peace and order of the city have constantly been disturbed on account of the general situation of the country, but General Wu Ping-hsiang has perfectly mastered the situation. He has enjoyed the confidence of the people in the Capital, and through his influence we have enjoyed prosperity. The merchants of the city have been alarmed at his resignation, and have asked the Chamber to send a petition to the Government to prevent the resignation from taking effect, etc." As measures should now be taken for the usual winter defense works, this Ministry hopes that General Wu will resume his office when his leave expires, etc."

California Japanese Frown On Picture-Brides

The Japan Chronicle (Kobe) of November 13 says:

The Japanese Association in California acted very properly in deprecating the picture-bride system. There is no objection, of course, to anybody choosing a wife from a photograph sent on approval, if he thinks there is a better chance of a prize in the lottery by this method, but the objection is to the practice being used as a means of evading the immigration laws. But on the other hand it is very objectionable, when there are a number of men of any particular race in a country, to refuse permission for women of their own race to come and join them this only leads to charges of immorality against them. While the Californians will do well, however to disarm hostility by conforming to rules, Mr. Yamaoka, who represented his countrymen in California, went somewhat far in asking the delegates at the Labor Conference to agree to all labor proposals so as to create as good an impression as possible for the benefit of the Japanese in California. They seem to have a somewhat excessive estimate of their relative importance.

Kwelchow Bandits Terrorise Province

The Peking Daily News of November 15 says:

There is no doubt about the fact that bandits in and around Kweichow province have greatly increased during the last few years and it is rather disquieting to see how the main routes into and out of the province are becoming unsafe for ordinary travel.

A few years ago an escort of a few valiant bearers of ancient Mausers was considered quite an abundant shelter under which ordinary commerce might seek refuge for its moving wares, but now a very different state of affairs exists in some parts. An escort of 100 soldiers is not considered too many for traders or travelers moving into or out of the province. From the eastern exit of the province down the Yuan river, through Hunan, no boat of any size is traveling without its soldiers aboard. The boats travel in groups and many of these flotillas have a Chinese gunboat following them for protection.

Recently General Wang of Kweichow, killed about 2,000 so-called robbers (of whom many, no doubt, were genuine bandits), and this has helped matters a little. The slaughter of these people took place near Kweichow, in Hunan. These sentry were relieved of their heads, and before these gory articles of human equipment were taken down from the trees on which they were hung for display, another band of robbers were at work almost under the branches of the same trees! If something is not done to clear up the routes it appears that the time will come when trade on some of these highways must absolutely cease. It is true that China lies, a weltering chaos, in the hands of her official and unofficial plunderers; and Kweichow and the neighboring portion of Hunan hold a prominent place in fixing this notoriety upon the state.

Tsinan Celebrates Armistice Signing

Tsinan, November 12.—The anniversary celebration of the signing of the armistice was observed in an even more elaborate manner than was that of the original "armistice day" in Tsinan one year ago, November 11. The monthly meeting of the Tsinan literary society fell on this day. An elaborate program was arranged, while Mr. J. T. Pratt, British Consul, and Mrs. Pratt invited the association to be their guests for the evening. The program was a musical one arranged by Dr. P. S. Evans, Professor of Physiology in the School of Medicine of Shantung University. Several piano solos appeared on the program, and a still larger number of vocal selections. Considerable enthusiasm was aroused by a chorus led and trained by Dr. Evans which rendered the popular war songs of the allies. A number of especially popular solos were sung by Mr. W. G. Mawson of Tai-an. A dance and supper followed the musical numbers.

INDIAN WILL WRESTLE AT OLYMPIC TOMORROW

Hindu Terror In Prelim To Bout Between Berne And Masked Unknown

Tomorrow night's wrestling bouts at the Olympic Theater took on added interest last night when it was announced by Charles Margelis, manager for William Berne, that an added preliminary would be between Noor Mohamed, the Hindoo Terror, and the Man In the Red Mask, who won the first preliminary at the recent bouts at the Victoria Theater. At those bouts Berne defeated Mohamed but the Hindoo made such a good showing, as did also the Red Mask, that the newly arranged preliminary bids fair to divide interest with the main event.

Berne and the unknown in the Black Mask, whose sensational ringside challenge was a feature of the show last week, are to be the stellar attractions of tomorrow night's bill. That the men were evenly matched was shown by the twenty minutes they spent on the mat together last week and both have expressed confidence in victory. The match is to go to a finish for two out of three falls.

Mr. Margelis is so confident that Berne will score another victory that he admitted wagering "a few peanuts" on his man.

There will be five preliminaries in addition to the main bout. The first preliminary will begin at 9:15 o'clock sharp and will run continuously until the end of the fifth when there will be a five-minute intermission before the main event.

Argument as to what rules shall apply to the main event has ended with an agreement to allow the referee make a decision just before the match. The unknown had objected to the toe hold as being part of jiu-jitsu and there had been some question as to whether the strangle hold should be allowed.

PLAN NATIONAL BODY TO GOVERN ATHLETICS

Amateur Athletic Association To Be Formed This Morning At Chinese Y.M.C.A.

Men who are prominent in promoting athletics in many parts of China will meet this morning at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. to form the China National Amateur Athletic Association.

The aim of the organisation is to promote amateur athletics in China and to make plans for the 1921 Olympic Games which are to be held in Shanghai. Records made by Chinese athletes in the last few years will be made official.

There has been need of such an organisation. Committees in charge of China's activities at Far Eastern Games have been temporary and after the games have been held, there has been a lull until it came time to prepare for the next Olympics.

The formation of an Amateur Athletic Association at this time means that men who were active with China's representation at the Manila games, last May, will be in a position to point out what is needed for the Shanghai games scheduled for September of 1921. Suggestions made now will have more effect than at meetings early in 1921.

Plans for the next Olympic meet should be outlined at this time so that other countries may also be interested early.

RACE MEETING SATURDAY

The seventh extra race meeting of the Shanghai Race Club will be held next Saturday. There will be one steeplechase, the first race, and seven flat races. The first saddling bell will be rung at 1:15 o'clock.

Ponies entered for the meeting and subsequently sold will not be disqualified providing the new owner or owners are members of the Race Club and notice is given the stewards in writing of the change in ownership.

BOXING PRELIMINARIES HELD AT PUBLIC SCHOOL

Semi-Finals In Tourney On This Afternoon; Several Good Bouts

Nine preliminary bouts of lightweights, bantamweights and flyweights, for the Shanghai Public School championship took place in the school hall last night. Semi-finals, including bouts for featherweights will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and the finals and the presentation of prizes will take place Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Yesterday's program was presented before a large number of spectators, including the members of the staff and the boys of the school. Captain Llewellyn Jones refereed and Messrs. E. H. Gilson and C. E. Shepherd acted as judges. Captain P. W. Bennett was time-keeper. The promoter and trainer was Mr. G. H. Parkes.

THE RESULTS

Lightweights—Caccia won from Zimmerman on points.

Siemsen knocked out Jacob in the second round.

Laurie-Smith lost to Schneider in the best bout of the evening. At the conclusion, the judges gave a draw. The referee, however, decided in favor of Schneider.

BANTAMWEIGHTS

Herzberg won from Rowland on points.

Siemsen (Min.) lost to Johannson. Both were good, but Johannson's agility and cleverness were apparent throughout and he won.

Soyka won from Young in a strenuous bout.

FLYWEIGHTS

Herzberg (Min.) vs. Nobleston (Min). These two, though young, gave the most scientific display of the evening. Nobleston was the winner.

Herzberg (Min). vs. Stanion. This was a very lively fight. Stanion had the longer reach, continuously delivering straight lefts. An extra round being ordered, Herzberg getting the decision.

Nobleston (Maj.) vs. Dietrich. The latter gained advantage in the first round, but on the second, Nobleston's sound, good lefts balanced matters and eventually won on points.

Yacht Club Cruise

The Yacht Club closing cruise will be held Sunday morning starting from Peking Road Jetty at 10:30 o'clock.

The fleet will proceed up river in formation of line ahead in order of seniority led by the Violet flying the Commodore's flag.

The Foam will leave the Peking Road Jetty at the same time as the fleet for the accommodation of non-owning members and friends.

Tiffin will be provided on board for those members sending their names to Mr. E. B. Shepherd, care of Messrs. Hall and Holts, not later than tomorrow.

A race will be arranged after tiffin for the non-owners cups, open to all sailing yachts in the fleet.

On arrival at the anchorage all yacht will dress ship.

Goodyear Tyres outwear, outdistance and outeconomize most others.

They have unusual inherent resiliency, strength and durability.

They are made to satisfy and protect users—not to be sold at a low competitive price.

Undoubtedly they are the most efficient tyres known for delivering long mileage at low ultimate cost, however, and that is what counts.

We recommend that you fit the famous All-Weather Tread "Goodyears" to your car and watch results.

White Sox Turn And Beat Cincinnati In Third Game

Dick Kerr, Pitching For Chicago, Is Puzzle For Reds

Aided By Great Fielding Holds Rivals Scoreless While His Team Counts Three Times At Game

Chicago, October 3.—"The last shall be first. The stone that was rejected of the builders has become the head of the corner." Little Dick Kerr, the White Sox second string southpaw, jumped into the niche of notoriety occupied by "Bullet Joe" Bush and "Babe" Adams today when he checked the Red Rush, shut out the National League champions and brought to Chicago the first victory of the 1919 World's Series by a score of 3 to 0.

Kerr was supreme. The big hitters of the Reds, Daubert, Roush and Groh, who wrought so much carnage against the White Sox stars, Cicotte and Williams, in Cincinnati, never had a chance with him. He allowed three hits, one an infield scratch, and he gave only one base on balls.

He had the Red hitters continually "in the hole," for he was shooting his first and second deliveries right over the pan, and he had something uncanny on every hurl. They tried free swinging, they tried chopping, they tried bunting, but the "kid" had them stopped at every turn. Everything in the Moran bag of tricks was used to rattle and confuse him, but the unknown Texas Leaguer of two years ago checked them all:

ATTENDANCE DISAPPOINTED

The attendance disappointed. It came to 29,126, although the park was filled, it seemed, to capacity. The receipts, however, cling close to the mark made a Redland Field in the first two games, for they totalled $90,569. And with this victory the chance for $100,000 "gates" at tomorrow's and Sunday's games look almost sure.

Moran staked his chances today on Ray Fisher, the former Yankee hurler. Ray pitched good ball. He had the Sox at his mercy in all except two innings, aided as he was by phenomenal backing by all the Reds, and more than phenomenal fielding by Heinie Groh, the Red Captain.

But in those two frames he faltered and it was on balls that he handled himself that the Sox got their openings and made their runs. If he had fielded as phenomenally as a pitcher as Groh did as an infielder the result might have been different—or the game would have gone into extra innings. But Fisher fell down on one play and was out-generalled on another, both vital in the sent up as a pinch hitter in the eighth, got by unscathed in the last half, aided by fine fielding. But the steed was stolen and there was little use in locking and barring the stable door.

WHITE SOX ATTACK STRONG

The White Sox attack showed strong again today. These white-hosed warriors certainly have the punch. Only for beautiful throwing to bases by Bill Rariden, the Red's catcher, the score would have been bigger, but Bill turned back all their attempts to advance on the bags by neat, accurate throws.

In the sixth, for instance, Jackson opened with his second single, a lucky Texas leaguer to left. He essayed to steal on the first ball, still a lead, and we'll improve on it tomorrow," said Pat Moran after the game. The Red leader wouldn't say whether he would send Reuther back tomorrow, or put in Hod Eller. In view of the way the Sox treated his right hander today, however it wouldn't be surprising if he shifted to a southpaw. Still, the Sox sympathisers remember the way their team hit Salee's offerings in Thursday's game and are not terrified by the outlook.

Kid Gleason was happy but wouldn't reveal his pitching plans either. He feels that a southpaw can stop the Reds, but he probably won't risk sending Williams back with only one day's rest. The chances apparently favor Cicotte or Bill James. In either case it will be a gamble, for Cicotte was certainly not "right" on Wednesday and James has never appeared in a World's Series game.

Fisher tossed himself into a terrible muddle in the second, and it gave the White Sox noise producers their first chance to exercise. Joe Jackson, with two strikes on His Excellency—they call him "General Jackson" in Chicago, despite his poor war record—Joe shot a single into left field. Hap Felsch bunted, and he has been bunting a lot in this series because Jackson has been getting on the bases very often. The bunt was straight to Fisher's feet, and Ray had plenty of time to catch Jackson. He made a horrible overthrow to second, and although Jackson fell down rounding the bag he had time enough to pick himself up and hustle on to third ahead of Roush's throw, and Felsch went on to second on the play.

GANDIL COMES THROUGH

Then Chick Gandil, who flivvered on two chances to worm into the Hall of Fame at Cincinnati on Thursday, delivered a sleep producer for Cintinnati. He singled to right, Jackson galloped in, and Felsch by fast sprinting and a good slide beat Neale's not-too-good throw. The noise woke up the sleeping steers in the stockyards. It probably was heard back in Cincinnati.

But the two big runs just whetted their appetites, and they wanted more. When Risberg drew four balls from the unsteady Fisher the chances looked good; but Ray made a good play on Schalk's bunt, forcing Gandil at third when it looked as though Chick should have made the bag by fast running. And then he repeated the play on Kerr's easy tap. When Groh grabbed Liebold's hot smash with one hand and threw out the runner at first the Red fans drew their first long breath of the inning. It was a great play at a critical time.

Edward Trowbridge Collins made his first real hit of the series in the third inning when he lined one savagely to left to start the frame. When Weaver spun a safe one to left, sending Collins to center, it looked like another slaughter, but Jackson, in attempting to bunt, popped in the middle of the diamond to the alert Daubert, and Groh made another circus stop when he snagged Felsch's whirlwind drive, threw to second and forced Weaver, and Felsch was doubled by a pretty throw to first.

Groh made a third great stop on Gandil to start the fourth inning, retiring his man; but Risberg lined a long, savage drive to right, and Neale, who tried to make an infielder's stop on the ball, missed it and it rolled over the foul line. Risberg made third on the hit, amid wild acclaim.

Then the White Sox pulled the unexpected. Ray Schalk dropped a bunt between the pitcher and third. Risberg was on the move with Fisher's pitch and the result was a perfect "squeeze" play. The run scored and as Fisher missed the ball Schalk beat Groh's throw to first. However, Ray was out stealing, protesting vigorously at Rigler's decision, and Kerr slashed an easy one to Risberg.

REDS' BEST CHANCE

The Red's best and only chance for scoring came in the second inning when, with Roush out, Pete Duncan shot a neat line single to left. He went to second while Risberg was throwing out Larry Kopf, but Neale couldn't put over the punch for the needed run. He clouted one to Eddie Collins, who easily threw him out at first.

Quite a flurry came in the eighth inning when, as the Sox were walking off the field, Jimmy Smith, the former New York second baseman, who was coaching at third base, stopped to address a few remarks to Eddie Collins and "Swede" Risberg as they came in.

The remarks quickly worked into threatening gestures and but for the quick work of Billy Evans, the umpire at third base, the contestants might have gone into a clush. He made 'em break clean and go back to their corners without casualties.

The evidence of hostilities made the Red fans furious. "Wait till we get them back in Cincinnati," was the cry. So one may expect a battle royal next Monday when the teams trek back to the Queen City.

Chicago is a big town and takes big things calmly. She has seen too many national conventions and too many World's Series to go crazy over one, as Cincinnati did, but still you can't say that the interest was in any way languid today. At 9 o'clock this morning there were double and triple lines three blocks long waiting to get the choice seats in the bleachers. Long before noon the unreserved places were comfortably filled, and as game time approached the jam became terrible, but there was no encroachment on the playing field as at Cincinnati, and no ground rules on batted balls, such as were necessary there, obtained here.

Money Cannot Buy More

It's made a real hit, and no wonder with such a beautiful Crepe de Chine. Hand-made, pure, in its original shade, it is offered to you in one piece, ten yards long and twenty six inches wide. Makes beautiful shirts. As a present for either sex what better article could you choose? There is sufficient Crepe in the piece to make the most beautiful dresses. For women's underwear it can't be beat. Think of the memories this Crepe brings to its owner. Think of the distance from whence it comes. Think of Marco Polo, of Kublai Kahn, of Kings, Queens and Millionaires. The richest people in the world cannot buy, any finer, more pliable, silk than this Crepe de Chine. The price of twenty dollars per piece is within reach of all. Send along your cheque or Chinese postal money order, and we will at once mail you one piece of Szechwan Crepe de Chine, postage free. If you really want to be keen, send her a piece of Crepe de Chine.

Money Cannot Buy More

It's made a real hit, and no wonder with such a beautiful Crepe de Chine. Hand-made, pure, in its original shade, it is offered to you in one piece, ten yards long and twenty six inches wide. Makes beautiful shirts. As a present for either sex what better article could you choose? There is sufficient Crepe in the piece to make the most beautiful dresses. For women's underwear it can't be beat. Think of the memories this Crepe brings to its owner. Think of the distance from whence it comes. Think of Marco Polo, of Kublai Kahn, of Kings, Queens and Millionaires. The richest people in the world cannot buy, any finer, more pliable, silk than this Crepe de Chine. The price of twenty dollars per piece is within reach of all. Send along your cheque or Chinese postal money order, and we will at once mail you one piece of Szechwan Crepe de Chine, postage free. If you really want to be keen, send her a piece of Crepe de Chine.

North China Insurance Co. Meets

The sixteenth ordinary general meeting of the shareholders of The North China Insurance Co. was held yesterday afternoon at the Head Office, No. 7 Kiukiang Road.

There were present Messrs. Wm. P. Lambe (chairman), C. M. Bain, R. McEwen Dalgliesh, J. T. Disselduff, W. A. Argent, directors, Mr. H. G. Simms, secretary and general manager, and other shareholders, representing in all 921 shares.

The notice convening the meeting having been read, the chairman spoke as follows:

Gentlemen.—Our meeting this year is again a little later than usual owing to Branch and Agency returns being delayed by the great irregularity in the arrival of mails.

Owing to Mr. Hide's departure for home the Board is deprived of the valuable services which he rendered to the Company as a Director during the past twelve years.

Mr. Argent of Messrs. Mackenzie and Co., Ltd., has accepted an invitation to a seat on the Board.

I regret that Mr. Binder is unable to be with us today; we hope soon to see him back in Shanghai restored to good health.

With the presentation of 1918 Working Account, the period of large premium incomes derived from war risks comes to an end, and when we look back over the past five years, shareholders in marine insurance companies have every reason to be satisfied with the results, which must be directly attributed to the power of our Navy and the skill and endurance of the officers and men of the mercantile marine.

For reasons which I shall refer to at a later stage in these proceedings, we are departing from our usual custom of closing Working Account 1918. We propose paying the usual dividend and bonus, writing Taels 30,000 off property, and carrying forward the balance.

We must now be prepared to face a period of keen competition in marine business, although for the time being the greatly enhanced value of cargoes compared with pre-war values goes a long way to maintain premium incomes at a high level and to provide income for the many new companies which have started business during the war. As these values gradually diminish and more steamers are available to carry cargoes, the real scramble for business will begin, and the difficulty of maintaining rates on a paying basis must in consequence become more accentuated.

Your attention has been drawn from time to time to the great increase in expenses as a result of the high cost of living in every part of the world. During the war the situation was met by the payment of special bonus to the staff, but now that pre-war conditions are not likely to return, temporary alleviation no longer meets the case and salaries have had to be increased. Logically rates of premium should increase to meet the extra expenses, but I am afraid the market generally will not realise this until it has been brought home in a more unpleasant way. Those who have had a long experience of underwriting know that in pre-war times, the percentage of underwriting profit over a series of years does not justify any great increase in expenses.

It was felt by your directors that the most practical way to meet the changed conditions and keen competition would be to participate in the present day movement for consolidating Insurance organisations.

As you know an opportunity offered itself to put this principle into practice in April last, when the directors of the Union Insurance Society of Canton, Limited, approached this board with an offer to give in exchange for one "North China" share, one share and a half in the "Society" plus £5 in cash. The offer was of such a nature that your Directors felt no hesitation in entering into a provisional agreement to accept it subject to your approval. Since then shareholders representing a large majority of shares have given their assent to the scheme and there are no dissenting shareholders. Owing to the proprietorship of this Company being scattered over different parts of the world, there is difficulty in obtaining replies promptly from all the shareholders, but it is confidently expected that by March 31 next, the final date which the "Union" have fixed for the acceptance of their offer, the balance of the replies will have been received.

Extraordinary general meetings have been held in order to bring the Company's Articles of Association into line to enable the scheme to be put through, and formal approval of the scheme has been given by the "Union" shareholders. Exchange of shares can now take place and you will shortly receive circulars in this connection. The fusion of interests has been carried out in the most friendly spirit, both Companies being quite satisfied with the advantages which must accrue to their respective shareholders.

The "North China" will continue as a separate Company with its Head Office in Shanghai, where our annual meetings will be held as heretofore.

Turning now to the financial advantages of the fusion, the "Union" shares which you will receive in exchange for your holding in the "North China" (taking the last "Union" dividend, exclusive of bonus dividend, as a basis) are expected to return you 5 percent on a market value of say £60. (i.e. 1½ share at £40 per share). Instead of the present "North China" dividend which returns 5 percent on £30 (market value immediately before the signing of the provisional agreement) you can, including the return of £5 cash, confidently expect to receive 5 percent on £65. You will thus receive a full return on the value of a "North China" share, which hitherto has not been possible owing to the absolute necessity of building up the Company's reserves instead of paying out bigger dividends. This will give you some idea of the immediate financial advantage to our shareholders resulting from the fusion of interests.

You will be glad to know that the question of the "North China" staff has been dealt with in a broad and liberal spirit, and the valuable asset we posses in our staff has been preserved for the benefit of the combined interests.

Later on we propose asking you to sanction the payment of a bonus to the staff not to exceed 20 percent on their salaries, which I feel sure will meet with your approval.

Our next annual meeting will be held in April or May next instead of October, so that it will take place at the same time as that of the "Union."

The dividend which we are recommending to be paid now will be in the nature of a second dividend. By next spring you will have already exchanged your "North China" shares for "Union" shares, and you will therefore participate in whatever Final Dividend the "Union" declares on account of the year 1918.

No questions being asked, the following resolutions were put and adopted:

1.—That the report and accounts for the year ending June 30, 1919, be accepted and passed.

Proposed by the chairman and seconded by Mr. C. M. Bain.

2.—That a second interim dividend of 15 percent on the paid up capital and a bonus of 15 percent on contributory marine premiums be distributed, both payable at the exchange of 6/7¼ per tael. Tls. 30,000 to be written off premises, and the balance to be carried forward. Proposed by the chairman and seconded by Mr. R. M. Dalgliesh.

3.—That Messrs. Lambe, Bain, Dalgliesh, Disselduff, Binder and Argent be re-elected directors of the company at an annual remuneration of Tls. 6,000. Proposed by Mr. J. Prentice and seconded by Mr. C. R. Slowe.

4.—That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Mathews be elected auditors of the company at a remuneration of Tls. 1,000 per annum. Proposed by Mr. J. Quinn, seconded by Mr. J. G. Smeaton.

5.—That the directors to authorised to pay to the office staff a bonus not exceeding 20 percent on their salaries for the past year. Proposed by the chairman and seconded by Mr. W. A. Argent.

Mr. H. A. Macrae then proposed a vote of thanks for the good work of the staff during the past five years.

Finance And Money Market

We have to report a quiet week with a small amount of paper offering. There was some demand for Remittance for freight, and also a little inter-Bank business. Taels T. T. on Shanghai.—The rate fell from 96.8 to 96.5 on the 7th inst, settlement day, and remained about 96.6 with no demand owing to money being tight with the Chinese Banks, who had borrowed from the Foreign Banks. Dollars.—The rate remained about the same as the previous week. Interest 22 percent. Changsha exchange: 26.

Imports

Piece Goods.—There is nothing further to report. Stock goods find a ready market and clearances are quite satisfactory. Manufacturers at home are now booked up so far ahead that forward purchases are becoming very difficult.

Yarn.—The market is steady at high prices. Clearances are very good.

Exports

The demand for the majority of produce is quite active, but business is confined within narrow limits by the generally large disparity in price, which tends to widen with the almost daily rise in exchange.

Patriotic Chinese Of Seattle Advise Their Native Land

FROM far Seattle comes an appeal to the people of China to bury their political differences and unite to save their country from chaos and destruction. It has been issued by the Chinese of that fine American city, and, translated into English, has been read before and endorsed by the Seattle China Club, which is composed of prominent Chinese and American business men. It is an appeal that cannot be ignored and we hope that it will be translated and published in Chinese newspapers throughout the country. It resulted, we are told, from a recent conference of the Chinese Welfare Association of Seattle held in commemoration of the establishment of the Chinese Republic. The document reads as follows:

AN APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE OF CHINA

OUR country is in danger of destruction. There are enemies without but its worst enemies are within.

The deadliest of all the enemies of China are those who would perpetuate disunion. If China were but united she could stand against the world. Disunion is tearing her in pieces. Limbs are already torn off. Ere long the vitals will be attacked. The country is headed toward ruin and destruction. The hot embers of Civil War are scattered in every quarter. If these are once blown into flame the end will be a conflagration to burn up the country. Moreover, other nations would then inevitably intervene to grasp what would be left and to save the whole earth from being devoured by the flames lighted in China.

We can remember when China was swept by war and rebellion sixty years ago. Do you want this repeated? It would be tenfold worse. You have been looking on for five years while all the world has been at each others' throats like tigers. Some of you have seen the devastated lands of Europe which fifty years will not restore. Do you want to see that loss of blood and treasure in China? Do you want to see foreign powers dividing among themselves what is left after the fire has burnt itself out?

The hearts of your brothers and friends in America are filled with anguish at the prospect. We pray Heaven to avert the disaster. So near are you to chaos and destruction that it is almost too late. But there is yet hope.

Where is your greatest danger? It is not from without though the danger from without is great. The greatest danger is from within. It is because you are divided, brother against brother, clan against clan, North against South. If China stood united she need fear nothing. She could then face the world. Then no one would be talking about loss of territory or about enslavement or about chaos and ruin.

What is to be done?

Harken to the advice of our sages. It is written in the Shu King that the first great Chou Emperor, who inaugurated the longest lived of all the Imperial Dynasties explained his success over the Shang tyrant as follows: "He has hundreds of thousands of officers, but they have hundreds of thousands of minds: I have but three officers, but they have only one mind." Another ancient ode still reverenced, "Good men are bulwarks, while the multitudes are walls that ring the land."

Listen to what happened in America. There was a Civil war in America between North and South. It dyed the rivers and soaked the plains with blood. Looking back over those sad days it is now clearly seen that if America had listened to the voice of mediation no Civil war would have torn North and South apart.

Believe us when we say that though we are far away from China, our Mother Country, we love her not less than you, and our hearts bleed at the thought of the horrors that today overshadow her.

What is to be done?

First of all: reunite the country. Let those who see the danger arouse the nation. Let them preach union. Let them go to the magistrates in every district and demand that ways be found for bringing North and South into harmony. Show to our powerful guilds and business men the abyss of ruin into which disunion is about to plunge our country. Show to those who set section against section the fatal consequences of their suicidal action. Let all students and patriots go out and preach union as they lately preached the boycott. Preach it in the schools, preach it in the market-places, on the junk and railway car, on the road, and in the tavern.

Tell them to get together. The Sons of Han and the men of Tang do not, cannot, hate each other. Then why are not the two united in one! Is it the work of those who would sell their country to fill their own pockets! Are they sons of China who fan the flames of hatred, discord and dissension? Brand such as traitors to their country. They are like Judas Iscariot who sold his Lord for thirty pieces of silver; like Benedict Arnold who betrayed George Washington, the Father of his Country; they are the betrayers of the sacred heritage of the Chinese people. Their names will be covered with infamy for ten thousand generations.

In the second place: When once the leaders of the people are aroused to the danger they will find ways of reuniting our country now torn and bleeding. But if the task is heavy remember you have friends whose fidelity is tried and true. Learn a lesson from America and the history of her Civil War. Had she but heeded the voice of mediation the scourge of a brothers' war would not have fallen upon her.

There are two roads before China. One that leads to chaos and ruin the worst the world has ever known, into slavery, into want and woe forever.

The other road would lead to a reunited, a prosperous and a powerful people, which would save all the world while saving itself and bring back the old days when China was the leader and the teacher of the nations. And this road will lead up beyond the grandeur of the past of the heights of republican glory to the leadership of Asia, the inspiration of the Orient, at once the oldest and the youngest of the nations.

The patriots who now sacrifice themselves to hasten that golden day, their memory will be enshrined in the hearts of their grateful countrymen for ten thousand generations.

"We are coming, we are coming;
We hear the loud cry;
Our Country's in danger,— We'll save her, or die!" —

First World Congress Of Labor

Called By Peace Conference For End Of October, Status Of American Delegates Is Still Unfixed

The first of the World Congresses, conceived by the Peace Conference, was born on October 29, when the International Labor Conference met at Washington.

In reality the International Labor Conference is the first genuinely legislative body ever assembled by a world Government in peace times. The conference will in its domain face a task not unlike that which greeted the first Congress of the United States after the Constitution was ratified by the States. The labor section of the Peace Treaty with its bill of rights is the congress. It will legislate for all of the nations which accept the Treaty of Paris. At the first meeting it will, however, be able to deal with only those questions which have been referred to it by the Paris conference. In another year its powers will be broadened. A writer in the New York Times says:

LACK OF PREPARATION

Because of the embarrassing position in which the Administration is placed by the present status of the Peace Treaty, small preparation has been made by the United States for the work of the Labor Conference. Great Britain on the other hand has made elaborate plans. Other countries also to a lesser degree have done important preliminary work. President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, it is true, has summoned a meeting of experts to consider what should be recommended by the United States. But the Government itself has been handicapped. At the last moment America will have to catch up with the procession.

This is important because of the fact that the International Labor Conference will be largely a congress of Governments which have prepared for the enterprise. Each of the nations will be represented by two official delegates and by two others, one representing the employers and the other workpeople, accompanied by technical advisers. Fifty percent of the delegates will thus be governmental officials. The program of things to be considered, moreover, consists rather of the industrial subjects handled by Governments than of questions at issue between trade unionists and employers. Whatever may be the action taken by the International Conference, for example, little influence will be exercised on the active labor controversies in the country.

Five questions were submitted by the Peace Conference to the first International Labor Conference. These are:

1. Application of the eight-hour day or forty-eight-hour week.
2. Questions of preventing or providing against unemployment.
3. Women's employment:
   a Before and after childbirth, including the question of maternity benefit.
   b During the night.
   c In unhealthy processes.
4. Employment of children:
   a Minimum age of employment.
   b During the night.
   c In unhealthy processes.
5. Extension and application of the international conventions adopted at Berne in 1906 on the prohibition of night work for women employed in industry, and the prohibition of the use of white phosphorus in the manufacture of matches.

POWERS OF CONFERENCE

The International Labor Conference can take two kinds of actions with reference to these issues. It can make recommendations which are in effect only suggestions. It can draft proposals which may be ratified as treaty provisions. Its authority is plainly no greater than the force of public opinion in the countries represented. Even with this limitation however, further opportunities are given the United States and Japan not to accept immediately the recommendations of the conference. Our Federal organisation with its recognition of State rights in the field of labor legislation and Japan's climatic conditions, imperfect development of industrial organisation and other "special circumstances' are recognised by the Peace Treaty as factors which must be given due regard in the Labor Conference.

Neither what remains of the Central Empires nor Russia will be represented at the first conference.

At the recent preliminary meeting held in London it developed that while both the British and the French Labor organisations desired the inclusion of German delegates, the French Government had definitely forbidden their participation. If German delegates are permitted to come, it was reported, French delegates will not be given passports. An explanation of this attitude was given by Professor J. T. Shotwell, who acted as a member of the Peace Conference's International Labor Commission.

Professor Shotwell stated that the Germans gave evidence of using the opportunity for political advantage. Consequently, he said, as soon as the Germans showed indications of good faith in dealing with the industrial situation, copies of the minutes of the labor commission would be supplied to them. For it is obviously essential that Germany should have the same general regulations with reference to labor as those obtaining elsewhere. Without such equality international trade competition would be seriously upset.

NATIONS AFFECTED

All of the most advanced nations will be affected by the questions to be treated by the October Congress. In no country is the eight-hour day an accomplished fact. Nowhere have the issues of child labor or of the employment of women been decided satisfactorily. Above all in no country has either the prevention or the amelioration of unemployment been dealt with adequately. All of these issues are fundamental to the welfare of every nation. But they are matters largely outside the pale of industrial conflict. They do not touch the embattled questions of a division of wealth and of social power, questions which lie in the background of the most troublesome strikes. Their solution is not the price of industrial peace.

The first International Labor Conference will deal, as the British Labor Party has pointed out, with social disease, not with the wages to be paid organised labor. International minimum standards below which none should be allowed to sink may eventually be established. European countries, the British Dominions, and the United States have made social progress along such different lines that international minimum standards will benefit all.

In the United States—if we are officially parties to the conference—the chief fight will come over the question of social insurance. This is bound to arise in connection with the consideration of unemployment and of maternity benefits. Hitherto, of course, the United States has been backward in this respect. Not even the beginnings of a social insurance system have been made. The American Federation of Labor has opposed it. In that field both Great Britain and Central Europe are far in advance of this country.

Nowhere, of course, has any serious effort been made to prevent unemployment. The members of the International Organising Committee have questioned the various nations regarding the attempts made to adjust the supply of labor to the demand, but so far, except for laws controlling immigration, there is little to build on anywhere in the world.

Yet there is no problem more important than the elimination of unemployment. None of the ills of industrial society accounts for more human waste. It transcends class controversy. It is at the root of the maladjustment of the social order. The British trade union representatives will come to the conference with suggestions for attacking radically this fundamental evil, but they will perhaps be alone.

BEGINNINGS OF SOMETHING

Unemployment, the eight-hour day, the regulation of the labor of women and children, these are the items of the modest program to which the first legislative assembly of the new world order will address itself. Even in these it is unlikely that the congress will be able to achieve much for the immediate future. But it is a beginning and in time things of undoubted value will come. The danger, however, which both Americans and British foresaw, and of which the Peace Conference itself took note, is that the average recommendations of the international conference will be used to prevent further advance in the progressive nations. That is a very immediate hazard.

But the real difficulty in recommending legislation for the world will arise from the problems faced by Oriental countries. The situation presented by the industrially backward countries will test the genius of the statesmen of labor. In this country the problem presented by Asiatic and other native labor has hardly been considered, except from the standpoint of restrictive immigration laws. British labor has, on the other hand, given great attention to it.

In most of the Orient there are no trade unions in the Occidental sense. In Japan labor unions are illegal. In India, in Egypt, in China, and in Japan even political democracy is not yet attained. In India children over nine years old still are worked in industry. Both in India and in Japan, according to a report made for the British Labor Party, women work at night in twelve-hour shifts. In the Orient a form of indentured service persists. In the Japanese silk mills, it is stated, women are employed on three-year contracts. During this term of years they are not allowed to leave an inclosure except with the permission of their employers. Many other similar practices which have long been obsolete in Western countries are still widely accepted in the Orient. It is perfectly clear that the same standards will not be enforced immediately by the East and West.

But when all the difficulties are seen; when the modesty of the first year's program, and the partial representation of the nations are considered; when the delays necessary to obtaining the actual adoption and enforcement even in the progressive countries of the measures likely to be recommended are remembered; when the enormous industrial gulf which separates the Occident from the Orient is visualised, even then, with all these limitations, the first International Labor Conference will mark an impressive point in the history of mankind. A beginning has at least been made. There is finally such a thing as a deliberate assembly considering during peace and for peace industrial policies for the use of the entire family of mankind. That alone is an infinite gain.

MACHINERY SET IN MOTION

The machinery is being set in motion. Through this machinery the labor problems of the world can be seen. Solutions can be offered. The human race by so much is in a position to direct its own progress, to control its own destiny.

The International Labor Conference and its successors will represent the real industrial interests of the nations. Two of the delegates of each nation will be governmental representatives, but two others will represent employers and employes. These latter must be nominated by organisations which are able to speak for their respective classes. The American Federation of Labor has the right to nominate the labor representative, and the dominant organisation of employes is accorded the privilege of choosing the spokesman of their interest. The Governments must abide by these provisions. Otherwise the conference need not seat the delegates appointed.

The role which the United States can play in the first conference will be determined during the next few weeks. Labor is assuming that this nation will be able to take its expected part. The American Federation of Labor is making ready and the Woman's Trade Union League is assembling its experts to consider what the international conmatian coast towns which stuck long to the eastern Caesars. In the decadence of Byzantium it was a bone of contention between the Kings of Hungary and the Republic of Venice, which gobbled it finally in 1420. A walled city of narrow streets and crooked alleys, of dark arches and vaults, which made it look Turkish rather than Venetian to Freeman's eyes. Its cathedral or collegiate church of the thirteenth century needn't bother us. See guidebook. Still, the sculptured scenes over the western doorway, "the animal forms, the statues of Adam and Eve, the crouching turbaned figures, the strange blending together of sculpture and architectural forms, make together a wonderful whole," says Architect Freeman. Where, indeed, did the turbaned figures come from above a doorway built two hundred years before the Ottoman turned up in Europe? A city full of architecture and looking like "one of the ends of the world."

Spalato, sixteen miles east of Trau by road, has a great and permanent interest as the place whither that extraordinary peasant Emperor, the most glorious of the Illyrian line, Diocles of Diocles, Diocletian, who chose for himself, the humble-born, a name of the gods, Jovius Augustus, went, after his voluntary and philosophic abdication, to "plant cabbages," to build a splendid palace, and to pass the last years of a strange and brilliant career. Diocletian recognised facts, dispensed at last with the old fiction that a Roman Emperor was still a Princeps, concentrating in himself all the magistracies of the old republic, in form bound to consult the Senate. Diocletian put an end to all that humbug, made the forms agree with the facts of despotism, divided the Roman world; and his division of it into perfectures and dioceses seems a premonition, almost a recognition, of the principle of nationality, a beginning at least of the mediaeval world. His curious system of two Augusti with two associate Caesars was, of course, destined to be a cause of divison and civil war. But he took the Emperors away from Rome. His own favorite capital had been Nicomedia. "Where Caesar is, there is Rome," was his haughty saying. He was tired of the Roman populace, of the Socialist city, fed on doles of corn and wild beasts, both of which were getting scarcer. He anticipated Constantine. If he persecuted the Christians, the worst of the persecution was the work of the ferocious Galerius. Of the great palace which Diocletian built, "the vastest, and "noblest dwelling that ever arose at the bidding of a single man," the mausoleum has been turned into a church, the temple is a baptistry. The "great bell tower rises proudly over his own work;" and so the persecutor was baffled, and quickly baffled, by time and fate, as he would say by Divine Providence, as the triumphant persecuted would say.

Diocletian's reforms in Roman administration are much more commonly known than the fact that, as Freeman puts it, "the architecture of Rome received a new life at his hands" as much as the Roman polity:

> Dimly rising above us we see, disfigured indeed, but not destroyed, the pillared front of the palace, reminding us of the Labularium of Rome's own Capitol. We pass under gloomy arches, through dark passages, and presently we find ourselves in the center of palace and city, between those two renowned rows of arches which mark the greatest of all epochs in the history of the building art. We think how the man who reorganised the Empire of Rome was also the man who first put harmony and consistency into the architecture of Rome. We think that if it was in truth the crown of Diocletian which passed to every Caesar from the first Constantius to the last Francis, it was no less in the pile which rose into being at his word that the germ was planted which grew into Pisa and Durham, into Westminster and St. Ouen's. . . .

How strange was the fate which called up on this spot the happy arrangement which had entered the brain of no earlier artist—the arrangement which but a few years later, was to be applied to another use in the Basilica of the Lateran and in St. Paul Without the Walls. Yes, it is in the court of the persecutor, the man who boasted that he had wiped out the Christian superstition from the world, that we see the noblest forestalling of the long arcades of the Christian Basilica.

The palace of Diocletian grew into Spalato, the largest Dalmatian commercial city, rich in the wine and oil trade. The impulsive Mr. Freeman took Spalato, also spelled Spalatro, for the descendant of "Palatium," the palace, the house of Caesar by the Dalmatian shore, which became a city and kept its old name. The old name was Aspalathum; and Mr. Freeman had to give up the "wonderfully tempting" derivation which enabled him "to make an epigrammatic contrast between the Palatium of Rome and the Palatium of Spalato, between the city which became a house and the house which became a city." Philology apart Spalato must always be interesting, so made by the memory of the Dalmatian peasant Emperor who built at Salona-Spalato that marvelous house with a marvelous view of islands, mountains, and sea.

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

Hall's Distemper

is a unique preparation and has the recommendation of leading sanitary authorities, architects, and decorators everywhere.

Russian Woman Doctor Sees Doom Of Bolshevism

By Margery Rex

In every upheaval, whether social or industrial, there are some few who maintain a calm, who are able to reason and act upon their sane conclusions; and there are yet others who, capable of great detachment of mind, can reason for the warring majority. Light cast upon chaos from an obscure angle sometimes reveals remedies, simple enough in themselves, but invisible to men blinded by fury.

Out of the darkness that hovers over social and industrial life in Russia today, a few thinkers have evolved a philosophy that might well be applied to some of the problems that confront America at this time. One of these far-sighted persons is Dr. Nathalie Wintsch Maleef, now in New York City a delegate to the International Conference of Women Physicians in session at the Y. W. C. A. building at 600 Lexington Avenue.

To the dissatisfied workers of the United States, she gives these messages as food for thought:

"Production in place of obstruction."

"Collaboration with governmental aims."

"Endurance and patience till better times come, as they surely must if production is greatly increased."

RUIN SOWN BY BOLSHEVISTS

From long experience with varying conditions, Dr. Maleef is able to speak authoritatively. She tells of the simplicity of life in Northern Russia where she was born, and of the ruin Bolshevism has brought to all of that country. She offers some arguments concerning the causes of the tragic upheavals in her own land as well as those beginning here.

"I say the war has brought this about," said the doctor. "Soldiers were idle in the trenches so long—and by idle I do not mean inactive; they were fighting, which is, after all, not production but destruction, although they made great sacrifices.

"They came back to civil life then, without fixed purposes. They found it hard to regain normality. they find in business the war profiteers who have become wealthy. In this state of mind workers are ripe for teachings of 'disturbers.'

"I say, let these men who are not content, try to collaborate with their Governments to bring their ideals into reality.

"Great production in all lines of work and manufacture must come. That will automatically lower prices.

STRIKES RAISE PRICES

"With strikes and a cessation of commercial activities, prices must stay up and go even higher.

"Bolshevism has no chance to win in Russia and labor troubles can have no permanent hold in America because 'unrest' does not produce, and therefore cannot live.

"The agitators in my country live now as the Germans lived in Belgium, and the north of France, by destroying pillaging and looting.

"I would suggest that those men who were active in winning the war be given a chance to have a 'say' in the Government concerning methods of punishing profiteers.

"Higher wages, strikes and speeches will not help you people out of the high cost of living. I repeat let every producer work and give his best and that will tide you over and bring about better times.

"Part of the tyranny of the Bolshevists was the establishment of the 'piece work' idea. Then a man's earnings in every sort of labor depended on how much he produced—regardless of the quality of his product or how many hours a day he worked.

"In this way the man who worked with his hands—I mean this literally—was exalted above all others. The more those hands could do the richer the man became. No co-ordination of the brain with the hands was necessary—indeed it would be foolish.

FAITH IN UNITED STATES

"I am sure this condition could never prevail in America. In this wonderful country no such tyranny of ignorance would be able to get a footing. We look to America to foster the best in industry and learning; mob rule has no consideration for the best in anything. It levels every one, and is undemocratic, in that it denies opportunity for individual advancement.

"The call of your New World that has brought so many immigrants to you in the past has been that of opportunity. With unrest and rule by the lowest, ambition will be deadened and the world might as well cease to revolve."

As representative of her country, Dr. Maleef is planning to take back with her many new ideas gained at the physicians' conference and on a number of occasions meetings have been enlivened by the bright little woman whose eager questions and splendid ideas have made her a subject of interest to the delegates.

Back Of The Fiume Trouble

By Stephen P. Duggan
(Director of the Institute of International Education)

To the detached observer Italy has made great gains from the war. Her inveterate enemy, to which she was tied by the Triple Alliance through fear, Austria-Hungary, has passed away. Her boundaries have been arranged to give her almost absolute military security. The Adriatic has become an Italian lake. Practically all the terra irredenta has been secured.

But however great these gains look, to the Italians they appear relatively small when compared to the rewards of Great Britain and France. The Italians have not secured great territorial gains as has the former, nor are they to have a favored position in the division of the German indemnity as has the latter. They resent the fact that they have no "mandates" in the former German colonies. With the loss of control by the Orlando-Sonnino combination the recalcitrant imperialism that characterised Italian foreign policy has been modified, but it has by no means disappeared.

I found criticism of the Allied Governments very frank, particularly of France. It was claimed by some with whom I talked that France could not brook the existence of another great State on the Mediterranean and was really responsible for the obstinate attitude of the Jugo-Slavs on the Adriatic question. It was certainly significant that while I was in Italy some of the most influential newspapers were arguing that with the disappearance of Austria-Hungary there was no reason for delaying a rapprochment with Germany.

Coming to Fiume, as I did, from Belgrade, I was fully acquainted with the intensity of Juglo-Slav desire for a fair settlement of the question. I am convinced that, although the Jugo-Slavs hope for possession of the city, they would be content with its internationalisation—with almost anything but Italian possession. I had considerable difficulty in getting permission from the Italian commandant at Trieste to go to Fiume, but obtained it by presenting a letter from the Foreign Office at Rome. The commandant kindly allowed me to go in a military automobile which whizzed through the country back of the Istrian peninsula at the rate of fifty miles an hour—a country where the valleys are thoroughly tilled but the hills and mountain sides are barren and forbidding. When the sea finally bursts upon one's view it is a truly beautiful sight, with the pretty town of Abbazia at the foot of the hills, from which the road goes along the seacoast till one arrives at Fiume.

A visit to Fiume makes one readily understand why both Italy and Jugo-Slavia are anxious for its possession. It has a splendid harbor, upon the development of which the Hungarian Government spent millions. The docking facilities are of the most modern kind. Ships can tie up at the docks and their contents can be stored in terminals equal to the Bush Terminals at Brooklyn. Fiume has every reason to hope for a great commercial future. In fact, its possibilities semed to me to equal those of Trieste. The city itself is well built, with fine streets and some imposing public buildings. The City Hall, for example, is one of the handsomest I saw in Europe.

Fiume itself is Italian in its atmosphere. Its architecture is Italian, its mode of outdoor life is what one meets in Italy; 28,000 of its 49,000 inhabitants are Italian. Most of the stores and banks are Italian, though the best and largest are kept by Austrian Jews, and most of the hotelkeepers and tradesmen speak German. But it is absurd to attempt to separate Fiume from Sussak for administrative purposes. The stream that divides them is nowhere wider than the Bronx River. A great number of the people of Sussak simply live there and work in Fiume. In fact, Sussak bears the same relation to Fiume as Brooklyn does to Manhattan. Moreover, the surrounding hills hem in the two communities from the hinterland as a unit. Now, of the 27,000 inhabitants of Sussak, a large majority are Croatians, and if these be added to the minority of Croatians in Fiume proper, they have a majority of the total population. I do not believe that, for that reason, they should have control of the city, however. On the other hand, I am convinced that many of the Italian-speaking Fiumians would not be averse to the city's being placed under international control. But they dare not freely express their opinions because of the spiritual terrorism maintained by propagandists from Italy.

Fiume was supposed to be under international control when I was there, but I saw no evidence of it. The Italian flag floated over the City Hall, the Custom House, and all the other public buildings. Italian soldiers patrolled all the streets in pairs. The British, Americans, and French had each a warship in the harbor, the Italians four. The British and French had each 1,000 soldiers, the Americans a few marines, the Italians, I was told, 10,000 soldiers. Entrance into the town and exit from it were only possible with Italian permission. The walls were everywhere placarded with posters calling upon the citizens to yield to no solution but union with Italy. At night immense electric signs flashed the motto "Italy or Death." Everybody but adherents of union with Italy talked very guardedly. However, the fact that I was an American was usually sufficient to loosen tongues and enabled me to get much information.

I am convinced that to give the city either to Italy or Jugo-Slavia will only postpone trouble. The Italians consider themselves a more civilised and cultured people than the Croatians, and most of them would find it unsupportable to be under Jugo-Slav sovereignty. Moreover, Americans must not forget the large part that history and tradition play in Europe. The Jugo-Slavs are convinced that the Italians want the city to stunt its growth in order to prevent competition with Trieste, and also to prevent the Jugo-Slavs having adequate access to the sea. This would leave them in the same condition as they were previous to the war, viz., landlocked and economically at the mercy of their seaboard neighbors. I believe that the Nitti Government was sincerely desirous of a sane solution and was moving toward an agreement for interntional control when d'Annunzio's coup took place. The coup makes the solution infinitely harder, and it will now be difficult to get an Italian Ministry willing to accept the odium that will accompany surrender." In fact, in the excited state of public opinion in Italy, it is a question whether d'Annunzio's coup can be considered a question of internal politics.

D'Annunzio's coup does not affect either the justice or the wisdom of internationalising Fiume. Short of an American or British mandate, neither of which is likely to be forthcoming, international control is apparently the only solution that promises durable peace.

Matador To Get $600 Each If He Kills Six Bulls

Madrid, Sept. 27.—Jose Gomez, one of the most widely known professional matadors, has signed a contract with the owners of a bull ring at Lima, Peru, in which it is agreed that he shall receive about $600 for each exhibition if he kills six bulls, and a minimum of $280 if he kills only two bulls.

The contract anticipates six exhibitions at Lima, which, it is stated, will probably mean more than $4,000 for Gomez, said to be a record prize for a matador.

U.S. FAR EAST FLEET COMMANDER AT MANILA

Admiral Gleaves Is Not Ready To Announce Headquarters Until After Cruise

Manila, Nov. 2—Admiral Gleaves, first commander of the American Asiatic fleet, who has arrived in Manila bay aboard the South Dakota, said much of the time of himself and the men under his command will be spent in cruising for a time at least and that he could not state definitely that Manila will be headquarters for the Asiatic fleet.

The South Dakota, flagship of the Asiatic fleet, arrived in Manila harbor from a cruise which began at New York September 5. She came out by way of the Panama canal and made the voyage at the economic speed of 13 knots in a total of 53 days, making several stops enroute. She will remain here for several weeks, as will also the cruiser Brooklyn.

Admiral Gleaves said: "I cannot say that my headquarters will be definitely at Manila, though we shall remain here for some weeks I shall require a few days to get the situation in hand but my intention is to do considerable cruising. The orders for the Brooklyn to return to the western coast of America have been revoked and she remains, at least for the present, in the Asiatic fleet. For the present the South Dakota and Brooklyn are the only vessels belonging to the Asiatic fleet."

The complement of men and officers for the South Dakota is about 1,000 men and 50 officers. She brought out 500 men and 10 officers to replace short-time men and officers who will be or who have been returned to America for discharge. The casuals on the South Dakota were transferred to the Mohican, the receiving ship at the Cavite naval station.

The South Dakota was built in 1906. Her armament includes four eight-inch turret guns, four six-inch guns and a battery of 12 six-pounders.

The district to be covered by the Asiatic fleet stretches from the 180th meridian to the Red Sea and from pole to pole.

Hongkong Home For Pacific Mail Fleet

Seven Big Freighters Picked By Company For New Service

In addition to the already enlarged trans-Pacific and Indian passenger and cargo service, a new cargo service maintained by seven 4,000-ton freighters, operating between China coast, Philippine, Straits Settlement and Indian ports, will be established immediately by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company of San Francisco.

Lack of adequate berthing and lighterage facilites, coupled with slow progress in effecting projected improvements and extensions counted against Manila in making the selection.

The following are the names of the new freighters for the new service: Caddopeak, Doyleston, Lake Gilpen, Lake Farmingale, Lake Fielding, Gitano and Faulk.

The new service is principally intended for handling trans-shipment cargoes to and from the company's trans-Pacific steamers, and will be operated on regular schedules including the following ports: Shanghai, Hongkong, Manila Saigon, Singapore, Calcutta, Madras, Penang, Port Swettenham. Under the proposed schedule there will be a 10-day service between Hongkong and Calcutta. Manila has not been included in the regular ports of call but will be listed for special calls until port conditions improve.
